SEVENTEEN HURT AS TRAIN JUMPS ONTARIO TRACK

Five Sustain Serious Injuries and Twelve Are Slightly Hurt When Derailed Cars of C.P.R. Freight Train Crash Into C.P.R. Passenger Train Between Hamilton and London.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 4.—Five persons were seriously injured and twelve slightly when the C.N.R. train from Hamilton and London was derailed by a C.P.R. train at the Dominion Sewer Pipe Company's siding near Aldershot at 8.05 a.m. to-day. The injured have been removed to hospital, five persons to Hamilton, the remainder to Toronto.

ONE COACH DAMAGED

Eight cars of the C.P.R. westbound freight were derailed when a journal broke and one of the cars crashed over into the side of the passenger train which had left Hamilton at 7.55 and was passing at the moment. One coach was struck in the middle and the side cave in. It was here that the passengers were injured, those in other cars escaping without serious injury. Amateurs were rushed from Hamilton and three of the more seriously injured removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

LINES BLOCKED
Both main lines of the C.N.R. to Toronto are completely blocked and trains are being routed via Stony Creek. Railway officials declared that wrecking crews left Hamilton and Toronto, and that the eastbound line would be cleared in about three hours. The other line will be blocked all day.

Conductor Hunt and Engineer M. Wright were in charge of the passenger train. Conductor Curtis and Engineer Denson had charge of the C.P.R. freight.

THE INJURED

The injured admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital are: Rev. Dr. McGregor, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church, London, Ont., fractured skull and serious internal injuries; Miss Hazel Thompson, Toronto, nurse, broken arm and badly shaken up; Mrs. Kathleen Ward, Winnipeg, fractured skull and broken jaw; William Ward, Winnipeg, husband of Mrs. Ward, severe cuts about face and body, and suffering from shock.

DOCTOR UNCONSCIOUS

Dr. McGregor was unconscious when brought to hospital. His recovery is considered doubtful as he has been rushed to the operating room in an attempt to save his life.

The condition of Mrs. Ward is reported as grave.

T. P. O'CONNOR EIGHTY FRIDAY

Father of British Commons Still Writes Few Dozen Columns a Week

F. Weatherley, Author of Famous Songs, is Also Eighty to-day

London, Oct. 4 (Canadian Press Cable).—Right Hon. Thomas Power, "Tay" Poy, O'Connor, the House Commons," will celebrate his eightieth birthday to-morrow.

The last survivor of the Irish Nationalist Party, Privy Councillor and famous journalist, although a martyr to rheumatic ailments, is enjoying considerably better health than he has for some months and continues to turn out a few dozen newspaper columns a week replete with his inexhaustible knowledge of men and affairs covering the last fifty years.

"Tay Poy" has represented the Scotland Division of Liverpool as Nationalist member of Parliament since 1885. He was born at Athlone, Ireland.

SONG WRITER'S BIRTHDAY

Another to his eightieth birthday is Frederick Edward Weatherley, whose name is held in grateful remembrance wherever English ballads are sung. He was born at Portsmouth, Hampshire, on October 4, 1848. From "Nancy Lee" and "The Midship Mite," his earliest successes, Mr. Weatherley's output of popular songs stretches through more than fifty years to "Up From Somerset," "Friend of Mine," "Rose of Picardy," "Danny Boy," as well as numerous other songs, "The Holy City," and "The Star of Bethlehem."

TO RESIDE IN VICTORIA

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Colonel H. T. Goodland, C.B., D.S.O., a former resident of Chilliwack, who retired in July from his position as deputy controller of the Imperial War Graves Commission in France and Flanders, which he had held for nine years, will leave Vancouver in a few days for Victoria, where he intends to reside permanently.

SIXTY-FIVE TO-DAY

HON. P. J. VENIOT

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General, to-day celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday.

PLAN SURVEY OF THIS PORT

New Chamber Group to Start Investigation Soon

Harbor Dues, Pilotage and Grain Movement Discussed

With Capt. J. W. Troup, retired manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service presiding the newly-organized Port Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met this morning to initiate a thorough investigation into the port situation here.

Those attending the meeting were, in addition to Capt. Troup, Lincoln Smith, Capt. C. D. Neroutos, Capt. George McGregor, Capt. E. Kelly, Henry King, A. P. Moffatt, G. B. Hope and J. E. Scobie.

A preliminary survey of matters affecting the port of Victoria was made at the meeting and several questions relating to information discussed.

TO VISIT DOCKS

It was decided to visit the Outer Wharves and Ogden Point Docks with the object of adopting a scheme for the fullest investigation into the needs of the port, its advantages and its disadvantages. This will be preliminary to efforts to secure improvements which are most urgently needed.

GRAIN FACILITIES

The question of grain-handling facilities was also brought up and thorough inquiry into the needs for this latest acquisition to Victoria's waterfront was decided upon.

An effort will be made, it was decided to have this port placed upon the same basis as other ports in the matter of fumigation of shipments; the need being for further equipment.

The committee finally decided that a complete survey of the port situation would be made before any recommendations would be submitted to the board of directors.

BABY BURNS TO DEATH IN CRIB

Mother and Other Child Injured When Manitoba Home Burns

St. Boniface, Man., Oct. 4.—The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Poole, was burned to death in his crib to-day when fire destroyed the Poole home. Mr. Poole's arms were badly burned and another Poole baby was burned about the legs. The mother and eldest child escaped from the burning building unharmed. It is reported that the fire broke out when an explosion resulted from an attempt to start the kitchen fire with gasoline.

Canada Sets Lead to World Towards Peace

Montreal, Oct. 4.—The only test of alliances, pacts or conventions is disarmament," declared J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Colonies in the former Labor Government of Great Britain, in an interview here to-day. "It is no good talking," continued Mr. Thomas, "about the will to peace when the instruments of war are being prepared, and all countries and all parties will be judged on that standard. No country gives a better illustration of these principles than Canada itself, for it, in her relationship with the United States, she relied on armaments, where would she be?"

"She relies on common sense, and in that connection she sets an example to the world."

RELIGIOUS ISSUE OF U.S. BATTLE COMES TO FORE

Keeps Bobbing Up as Presidential Campaign Proceeds

Washington, Oct. 4.—While Nicholas Longworth, Republican Speaker of the House of Representatives, was charging in an address at Swampscott, Mass., last night that "if the religious issue has been injected into the presidential campaign it is no fault of ours," Dr. Henry Vandike, former Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, was making a plea over the radio at New York for religious tolerance.

Dr. Vandike said: "The election of Mr. Hoover even if part by anti-Catholic votes, would be a misfortune for the country, but the religious issue is not admitted to be an issue by either party and has been consistently soft-pedaled since the nomination of Governor Smith by both. Keep bobbing up as the presidential campaign advances. Mr. Hoover has twice issued statements in repudiation of a circular put out over the signature of a Republican worker and Chairman Hubert Work of the National Republican committee, rebuked another demonstrator."

Senator Joe Robinson, the Democratic vice-presidential pick, was concerned with the prohibition question in his address in Oklahoma last night. He "felt justified," in assuming that under the administration of Governor Smith, the public might look for "more just and uniform enforcement," than under Herbert Hoover.

COOLIDGE TO SPEAK

Senator Curtis Robinson's direct opposition, went doggedly into harness at Chicago to-day, despite a bad throat. He made a speech in praise of the administration of the last eight years.

A feature of yesterday's development was the announcement by Mr. Hoover that President Coolidge would make some speeches during the campaign.

ATLANTIC GALE IMPERILS CREW

Dutch Freighter Sinking With Thirty-five Men on Board

New York, Oct. 4.—The gale-lashed Atlantic to-day held the fate of the Dutch freighter Ceeleano, reported sinking with her crew of thirty-five men.

Speeding to their rescue was the Hamburg-American liner Albert Ballin, but failure of the latter to establish communication with the line's office here left the status of the rescue effort in doubt.

With the fate of the Ceeleano's crew still in doubt, twenty-seven other men, the crew of the steam trawler Fillet, which sank off Montauk Point, N.Y., yesterday were landed safely at New London, Conn., this morning.

They had taken to lifeboats when their ship sprang a bad leak. They were picked up by the steamer America and later transferred to the coastguard destroyer Perry which took them into New London. The Fillet sank after being abandoned. She was owned by Smith & Anderson of New York, and valued at $150,000.

However, from some sections where crops matured early, all harvesting and threshing is completed and these men are returning home well satisfied with their experience in the States. At least, this is the story told by many of them to Canadian National Railway officials who are in close touch with the situation and who make special arrangements for their return trip, which is appreciated by these harvesters and will undoubtedly go a long way in leaving them with pleasant memories of Western Canada and may possibly ultimately result in their return to become permanent citizens.

CUSTOMS MINISTER SCORES POOLEY LIQUOR STATEMENT

Shows Poor Lack of Knowledge and Disinclination to Accept Federal Offer of Co-operation, Says Euler, Denying Charge Dominion Government Is Violating Laws for Benefit of Liquor Interests.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, this afternoon issued a lengthy statement dealing in detail with certain charges reported to have been made by Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General of British Columbia, against the department which Mr. Euler administers.

Mr. Euler declared that his department is attempting in all sincerity to co-operate with the provinces in the enforcement of their liquor laws, and that any lack of knowledge of the true situation and a quite apparent disinclination to accept our offer of co-operation, I can not believe that Hon. Mr. Pooley made such a charge.

"UTTERLY UNTRUE"

"The charge that the Dominion Government is deliberately violating its own law for the benefit of the liquor interests is utterly untrue," Mr. Euler declared. "Such a statement would show a poor lack of knowledge of the true situation and a quite apparent disinclination to accept our offer of co-operation. I can not believe that Hon. Mr. Pooley made such a charge."

The Minister suggests that if the British Columbia Attorney-General had any fault to find with the Department of National Revenue, it would have been for his failure to address his complaints to the department "rather than to the press."

HARVESTERS ARE WELL SATISFIED

Some Continue Making Stake; Others Returning With Work Finished

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 4.—Harvesters are taking advantage of the exceptionally fine weather prevailing throughout the prairie provinces and as a result thereof and the splendid crop conditions, they are making a good stake of money.

However, from some sections where crops matured early, all harvesting and threshing is completed and these men are returning home well satisfied with their experience in the States. At least, this is the story told by many of them to Canadian National Railway officials who are in close touch with the situation and who make special arrangements for their return trip, which is appreciated by these harvesters and will undoubtedly go a long way in leaving them with pleasant memories of Western Canada and may possibly ultimately result in their return to become permanent citizens.

French Father Finds Daughter Living Here After War Romance

A letter from M. Gillardet-Depouille of Liege, Belgium, and a city directory in the hands of Mr. F. Hunter, City Clerk, effected a reunion between father and daughter to-day, when Mrs. Alphonse Carrol, nee Mlle. Gillardet-Depouille, was located at a Victoria address.

Queries from the father to the city authorities brought to light a wartime romance, wherein a young French girl followed her fiancé, a Canadian soldier, to Canada and made her home here as his bride in 1921.

Queries for word of his daughter were addressed by M. Gillardet-Depouille to the city authorities.

Quebec Prepares For Air Liner

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Wing Commander E. W. Stedman, chief Canadian aeronautical engineer, will view the arrival of the German air liner Graf Zeppelin at Lakehurst, N.J., as representative of the Dominion Air Board, it was learned to-day.

Mr. Stedman examined the big ship this summer while in Germany and discussed the flight with Commodore Ekner and other officers who will be in charge of the aircraft.

Special attention will be given to the methods used for mooring the immense craft at Lakehurst.

A mooring mast 250 feet in height is being constructed by the Canadian Government at the flying field at St. Hubert's, Que., and some improvements may result from Mr. Stedman's observation.

Waite Hoyt and Bob Meusel Star In New York's Great Win Over St. Louis Cards

OPENS WITH WIN

star hurler of the New York Yankees, who pitched splendid ball against the St. Louis Cardinals in the opening game of the world's series. Hoyt yielded but three hits and the Yanks won 4-1.

AUTHOR WILL ADDRESS CLUB

F. W. Grove to Be Honor Guest at Canadian Club Luncheon

"Canada—The Spiritual Awakening of an Individual" will be the subject of an address by Frederick William Grove, well-known author, before the Canadian Club at the luncheon to be held at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Friday at noon.

Mr. Grove was born at Malmo, Sweden, of wealthy and cultured parents and was educated in Sweden, France, England, Germany and Italy. At the age of twenty-four his parents died, the family fortunes failed and Mr. Grove set forth, without experience, to earn his living. After many hard knocks he eventually found a home in Canada, where he taught school and later became a writer. His home is now at Rapid City, Manitoba.

He is a prolific writer and has nineteen novels in manuscript, dealing with western life and written over a period of thirty years, in which Mr. Grove has been particularly interested in colonization.

LABOR WOULD CONTROL BANK

Nationalization of Bank of England Proposed at British Party Conference

Birmingham, Eng., Oct. 4.—The Labor Party conference approved a special committee report on the problem of banking and currency including nationalization of the Bank of England. The report points out that already many of the Government functions of the Bank of England are recognized. Although the bank is theoretically a commercial enterprise owned by shareholders, "actually its administration is conducted on close association with the Treasury with some regard to its national responsibility."

The report holds, however, that the constitution of the bank should be such that it would be brought directly under public control and its governing body made responsible to the community and not to the individuals.

It was recommended that the bank should be taken over by a public corporation which would include representatives of the Government Treasury, the Board of Trade, national industry and co-operation movement. Extension of municipal and co-operation banks also was recommended.

Dock Workers In Australia Vote To Resume Work

Adelaide, Oct. 4.—Striking waterfront workers at a mass meeting to-day decided to go back to work under the award of the Arbitration Court which provides for morning and afternoon hiring of laborers by the shipowners. The strike started when the dockers held out for only a morning "pick-up."

First Game of World's Series Sees Hoyt in Brilliant Form, Letting National League Champions Down With Three Scattered Hits; Meusel Connects for a Home Run With One Man on Base; Ruth's Big Bat Knocks Out Two Doubles and a Single; Bottomley's Home Run Gives Cards Their Only Tally; 75,000 Fans Attend.

YANKEE STADIUM, OCT. 4

Waite Hoyt, young Brooklyn undertaker, who thrilled American League baseball fans with his wonderful moundwork during the past season and earned a bonus of $2,000 for winning twenty-two games, turned in another splendid performance to-day when he turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1 and gave victory to the New York Yankees in the opening game of the world's series. The game was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 75,000.

Hoyt allowed the Cardinals three scattered hits and at no time was he in danger. He slipped a little in the seventh when he allowed Jim Bottomley, the Cardinal first sacker, to pole out a home run for St. Louis's lone run. "Wee Willie" Sherdel, who opposed Hoyt, was nipped for seven hits and was continually in trouble. Hoyt struck out six and Sherdel two. Hoyt held the Cards hitless until the fifth inning.

MEUSEL ALSO STARS

Bob Meusel, the Yankees' left fielder, played real championship ball, not an error being chalked up against him. The Cards were credited with one miscue, "Rabbit" Maranville being the offender.

In the first inning the Yanks got away to a one-run lead. Ruth, who crashed out three hits, including two doubles, hit for two bases and scored on Gehrig's two bagger.

The Yankees, who are badly crippled through injuries to some of their regulars, played real championship ball, not an error being chalked up against them. The Cards were credited with one miscue, "Rabbit" Maranville being the offender.

In the first inning the Yanks got away to a one-run lead. Ruth, who crashed out three hits, including two doubles, hit for two bases and scored on Gehrig's two bagger.

MEUSEL'S GOOD HIT

Meusel's homer in the fourth with Ruth resting on second, boosted New York's lead to three runs.

In the seventh the Cards broke their string of "goose eggs" when Bottomley landed on one of Hoyt's fast ones for a home run.

The Yankees made their victory more secure in the eighth when three successive singles by Koenig, Ruth and Gehrig scored a run.

The game was filled with sensational fielding plays, players on both teams turning in wonderful catches.

The batting order and the umpires for the game were as follows: St. Louis—Douthitt, cf.; High, 3b.; Frick, 2b.; Bottomley, 1b.; Hafey, 1c.; Harper, rf.; Wilson, c.; Maranville, ss.; Sherdel, p.

New York—Pascual, cf.; Koenig, ss.; Ruth, 1c.; Gehrig, 1b.; Meusel, lf.; Lazzeri, 2b.; Dugan, 3b.; Bengough, c.; Hoyt, p.

Umpires—Clarence B. Owens (A.), at the plate; Charles Rigler (N.), first base; William A. McGowan (A.), second base; Charles H. Pfirman (N.), third base.

FIRST INNING

Cardinals—The spectators arose as the Yankees strode out on the field. The movie men snapped the players and the band played.

Ruth got a good hand as he hobbled out to right field. He limped perceptibly as he trotted along. There was some delay until the photographers could get off the field. Hoyt warmed up leisurely in the box.

Douthitt, who Owens insisted that every photographer be of the first man to come to bat.

Douthitt polished his bat with some dirt and stepped to the plate. Douthitt went out Lazzeri to Gehrig. High up. The Yankee outfield came in close. High sent up a high fly to Pascual. Frisch up. The crowd applauded the New York boy. Koenig threw out Frisch at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Pascual filed out to Hafey. Koenig up. Sherdel was working the corner of the plate, Frick inside and outside. Hafey took Koenig's fly. Ruth up. The Card outfielders backed up. Ruth got a double into right for the Yankees' first hit. Gehrig up. Ruth scored on Gehrig's double to right field bleacher fence. Meusel had to duck a called ball. Meusel sent up a high one to Frisch. One run, two hits, no errors. One left on base.

FOOLED POLICE FOR FREE TRIP, EASY, BOY SAYS

Boy Figuring in Northcott Case Tells How He Hoaxed Officers

Gathered Tips From Policeman's Talk to Answer Questions

Los Angeles, Oct. 4.—Eleven-year-old Arthur Hutchins, who got a free trip from Iowa to California as the result of Illinois case identifying him as Walter Collins, missing Glendale, Cal., boy, yesterday blew the police for the misidentification "because they were easy to fool." This fact, the boy declared, and the many tips they had unwittingly given him, explained his ability to continue his hoax for several weeks.

Young Hutchins said that he did not like school in Iowa, and had made up his mind to go to California to make some money. He said he left a note at his mother's home in Iowa, telling her he was going on a hike.

When the police of DeKalb, Ill., picked him up they asked him if his name was Walter Collins, which he denied. Finally, the boy declared, after telling him a lot about the missing California boy, the police insisted he was Walter Collins, and he decided he might as well let them think so and "maybe they would send me where I wanted to go."

Then he began fooling the police by his answers, which they already had given him about the kidnapping case. "All the way out here," Hutchins continued, "I listened to what they had to say about Walter Collins, and when I got here I listened some more so I could keep on fooling them. They were easy to fool, for one day they would tell me something and the next they would ask me about the same thing, so it was easy to tell the right answer."

After Mrs. Christine Collins, mother of the missing boy, decided Hutchins was not her son she returned him to the juvenile authorities. The police then questioned him about a watch which had been given the Collins boy by friends and Hutchins identified it as the one the friends had given him.

"That was easy," the boy explained. "Mrs. Collins showed me the watch so when the police showed it to me I knew all about it."

Walter Collins has been named as one of four youths murdered at Riverside by Gordon Stewart Northcott.

THREE DIE IN EDMONTON FIRE

Stanley Block is Guttured in Afternoon Blaze; Man, Wife and Daughter Lose Lives

Edmonton, Oct. 4.—Their escape cut off by flames and dense smoke which rushed up the stairways, a family of three perished when fire swept through the Stanley Block, a three-story apartment building, located near the downtown section of the city, late Wednesday.

The dead are: Steve Glubich, twenty-eight, his wife, Nancy, twenty-four, and his four-year-old daughter. The three victims were trapped on the third floor—the woman and child in the apartment and the husband in the hallway. It is believed Glubich met his death as he attempted to rescue his family. His body was bruised and cut, and he was evidently struck down in the hallway by falling debris.

Several firemen were overcome by smoke, while many of the thirty residents in the building had narrow escapes when flames raced up the hallway and cut off escape.

Property damage was confined to the stairways and walls and is estimated at $10,000.

OWNERS REDEEM TAX SALE LANDS

Over $30,000 Paid Into City Treasury in Last Few Days

A total of $30,240 was paid by owners to the city treasury in the last few days, in the redemption of 110 parcels of land from the annual tax sale. The tax sale list started with 260 parcels, but had dwindled to 156 parcels before the sale opened. These have an upset price totaling $27,058. The sale is continuing from day-to-day at the City Hall, former owners in most cases bidding on property which they were too late to redeem outright.

Commenting on the heavy volume of redemptions to-day, Acting Mayor P. R. Brown, said the showing made this year was the best in city records for a considerable time. Fewer reversions, and a high percentage of collections were also noted, he stated.

Adolescence Time Of Important Changes

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Adolescence is the period between the stage of childhood and that of the full grown adult. It commences in girls about twelve years of age and lasts ten years; in boys, it begins at about fourteen years of age and lasts for a varying period of from seven to ten years.

During this period various important changes take place in the child. It develops the characteristics that definitely distinguish the grown man or woman from the child.

RAPID GROWTH

During this period, growth is more rapid than at any other time, except the first two years of life. Quick growth is associated with greater possibilities of physical and mental disturbance.

The mortality rate is lowest during the ages from 12 to 20, but the possibility of danger to the child's health during this period is as great, if not greater, than at any other. Particularly the expenditure of energy must be observed and overstrain in attention and in social activities.

During this period of growth the muscles develop somewhat more slowly than do the bones. For some time it was thought that this fact was responsible for growing pains, but it is now definitely believed that these pains are associated with infections in the nose and throat and rheumatic complications.

Between the ages of 13 and 15, the volume of the heart becomes nearly doubled. Some children react unfavorably to this development with fear responses, but there seems to be no reason to believe that the rapid development of the heart is to be controlled in any way.

CHLOROSIS

It used to be quite common for girls during this period to become pale, thin and anemic. The condition was called chlorosis and was believed to be a legitimate indisposition of the period. It is now realized that the condition was due to the fact that girls of this

Should the Hair Be Dyed? The Answer

By ANN ALYSE

When the advance of age calls for greater care and closer attention to all phases of appearance, one of the first questions to arise is this: Shall we dye our hair?

If you ask me, yes. Why should we not take advantage of any and every thing that will improve our looks?

Greying hair is a sign that cannot be denied. All the talk about mother being grey at twenty-five, sister at thirty, no matter how true it may be, makes no impression on the observant listener. It only means that you are unconsciously erecting a defence against the approach of that arch-enemy, Time. In this day of fashionable frankness, let us be frank.

We will suppose now, that upon looking at yourself closely in the mirror, you discover that time has insidiously sprinkled considerable grey in your hair, and that the effect is far from pleasing.

You have noticed other persons to whom grey hair seemed to lend added dignity. That is true, but they have reached the point where there is more grey than black, while your changing tresses are of that yellowish, iron variety and just enough of them present, to spoil the party.

How about dyeing 'it, or tinting it, as it is now called? That is the thing to do, provided it can be done artistically. It helps you retain a claim to youth and in that way bolsters up your morale. And in this world of

named for disciplinary action in the report on ambulance chasing handed to the Appellate division of the Supreme Court Tuesday. The report, the full contents of which were made public yesterday, was written by Supreme Court Justice Isidor Wasservogel, before whom the inquiry took place and

HIGHLIGHTS OF U.S. CAMPAIGN

Action Light Only Month Before Presidential Election

Washington, Oct. 4.—While Herbert Hoover remained quietly at Washington and Governor Smith rested in the executive mansion at Albany, N.Y., the winds of the presidential campaign last night were variable as usual and rather light considering that the election is only a little over a month away.

Senator Joe Robinson, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, was in one of the areas of higher pressure, Tulsa, Okla., where he made a speech on farm relief and commented on "so-called Republican prosperity."

Earlier in the day he mounted a truck in the street of Claremore and told the people that, judging by his actions, nobody would know to what church Governor Smith belonged.

Some of the straw blowing over the political terrain were:

Senator Reed of Pennsylvania said there was little or no possibility of Pennsylvania being swept into the Democratic column.

The women were asked to vote for Herbert Hoover because of his world war and government activities in their behalf, by Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, Republican national committee vice-chairman, and Mrs. Silas Strawn of Chicago, in radio speeches.

James W. Good, western campaign manager for Herbert Hoover, said he thought the western tour of Governor Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, was successful—"from the viewpoint of the Republicans."

G. W. Beckman, former governor and United States Senator, and a leader in Kentucky prohibition ranks, announced his support of Governor Smith.

Nicholas Longworth, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Henry J. Allen, former Governor of Kansas, charged that the so-called religious issue had been injected into the Presidential campaign by the Democrats.

John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, said that the Republican Party to-day is the old prohibition party.

Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, called from Italy to Raskob, saying he was "anxious to help in every way possible to make Governor Smith the next President."

was filed by Isidor Kresel, who acted as special prosecutor.

"Many police officers doing traffic duty are in the pay of the ambulance chasers," said Mr. Kresel. "These traffic policemen carry the cards of ambulance chasing lawyers in their hats."

STEEL CABIN SAVED AIRMEN

Major Godfrey in Edmonton Tells of Crash in Peace River

Edmonton, Oct. 4.—Major A. E. Godfrey, noted Canadian airman whose crash in the northern wilds attracted Dominion-wide attention, arrived in Edmonton late yesterday from Peace River, accompanied by Sergeant-Major Graham, one of his three companions on the flight which ended in disaster in the Peace River. Major Godfrey brought with him the motor of the big Fairchild seaplane which he and Sergeant Graham remained behind to salvage from the wreckage of the machine. The motor was forwarded to Ottawa last night.

The major had little to add to the story of the crash already told by his companions, Wing Commanders Broadner and Gordon, who preceded him to civilization. He has pointed out, however, the fact that it was the steel construction of the cabin which undoubtedly saved the lives of the party.

The usual frame construction would have collapsed immediately and given the party no chance to extricate themselves from the wreckage.

New York, Oct. 4.—A matinee performance of Mae West's play, "Pleasure Man," was halted during the first scene of the third act yesterday afternoon by Police-Lieut. T. Coy, who walked on the stage and told the audience that he was placing the cast under arrest.

Miss West and her actors were also arrested after Monday night's performance, charged with staging an indecent performance.

Coy announced that injunctions under which Miss West, who wrote "Pleasure Man," and the cast of more than fifty had given the production Tuesday night had been vacated. When one of the actors protested and insisted on making a speech, gallery customers booed him and Lieut. Coy removed the man, John Holly, from the stage. Meanwhile Coy's blue coats, augmented by detectives, were bundling the other actors into four patrol wagons.

House tops and windows were crowded with spectators as the "black marines" hustled their prisoners to the Westside headquarters.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—Within twelve hours after his wife was found beaten to death with a hammer in an East Side apartment in New York and his daughter battered so badly that she is expected to die, Joseph Szalay, a blacksmith, shot himself to death here yesterday, after a pistol duel with a detective who attempted to question him.

New York police, who learned from Rosemarie Szalay, nineteen-year-old daughter of the dead woman and sister of Emma, fourteen, the injured girl that Mrs. Szalay came to that city two months ago after a quarrel with her husband, communicated with Philadelphia authorities in an effort to apprehend the husband in connection with the crime.

SASKATCHEWAN POWER BOARD

Is Expected to Be Formed at Early Sitting of Legislature

Imperial, Sask., Oct. 4.—Announcement was made last evening by Premier J. G. Gardiner that in all probability the members of the Saskatchewan Legislature will be called into regular session before the Christmas holidays.

This announcement came during an address by the Premier opening the by-election campaign in this riding in which Dr. Vaughn is the Liberal candidate, and Steven A. Cuthbert has been nominated for the Conservative interests.

The Premier at the moment of making his announcement was speaking of an agreement about to be signed between Saskatchewan and the Government in connection with power. He stated that if this agreement was signed the Legislature would be called to consider legislation for the establishment of a power commission for the province.

"It will not be a special session of the Legislature," he said, "but the regular session, and in all probability the members will be called together before the Christmas holidays."

Minneapolis, Oct. 4.—Bank robbers and jewel thieves descended on Minneapolis yesterday and in two daring daylight holdups escaped with $12,000 in cash and gems estimated to be worth $100,000. The victims were the Penn State Bank which lost the money, and Ernest H. Porter of Chicago, representing the Bohm and Pries Company, who lost the gems.

Three men were involved in each robbery, but it was not believed they were the same gang.

Flourishing pistols and uttering threats of death, the bandits held six persons at bay in the bank while they seized all the cash they could find. They sped away in a maroon colored automobile which answered the description of a car used recently in four North Dakota bank robberies.

Early in the jewel robbery, the bandits raided an inter-city bus which was carrying Porter and a guard from St. Paul to Minneapolis and carried both men away in their own car. The guard was slugged when he hesitated to obey the bandits' command, but was found a short time later wandering in a daze near the scene of the holdup. Porter also was carried away by the robbers, but they threw him from the car after a few blocks ride, during which they searched and found the jewels.

VANCOUVER ISLAND'S EGG INDUSTRY

"No industry on Vancouver Island in the agricultural group has expanded so rapidly as the shipment of eggs. In the nine months ending Saturday last the Island poultrymen had assembled for shipment 22,176 cases, as compared with 7,003 in 1927 and 376 cases in 1926. Of more than 300 carloads of eggs which have left British Columbia this year, the Island has contributed thirty carloads and parts of a number of other cars, probably about one-seventh of the total."

THIS ITEM OF NEWS IS INTERESTING and encouraging as it stands; but it also is interesting because it appeared in a contemporary which a little more than two years ago supported those high tariff advocates who told us that unless the duty against American eggs was raised from three cents a dozen to eight cents a dozen, the poultrymen of Vancouver Island would have to go out of business. We well recall what a gloomy picture a former Conservative member of the local Legislature painted on various occasions. He saw a situation which was bound to spell ruin right and left unless American eggs could be kept out. It was nothing to him that the number of eggs imported from the neighboring republic was negligible. He thought he saw a good argument to advance his protective tariff theories and he made the most of it.

Here we have another case of the producer finding practical means of protecting his business. Two years ago Vancouver Island poultrymen were shipping 376 cases of eggs to outside markets. In nine months of the present year they shipped 22,176 cases. They advertised. They urged the people to eat more eggs. The people took their advice. The per capita consumption now is almost twice what it was two years ago. What would have been the condition of the poultry industry of Vancouver Island to-day if the Government at Ottawa had imposed the artificial restrictions which a few high protectionists demanded? The consuming public would have been asked to pay the additional five cents duty, and we venture to suggest that there would have been no story of increased per capita consumption to tell. There is a limit to the price the consumer will pay for any commodity.

The poultrymen of Vancouver Island in particular and of British Columbia in general are entitled to warm commendation for their enterprise. The progress they have made in their business is an indication of what they are capable.

OUR TREATY OBLIGATIONS

IN THE DISCUSSIONS ON THE SUBJECT of Canadian liquor entering the United States it seems to be forgotten that a treaty was made on June 6, 1924, between Canada and the neighboring republic for the suppression of smuggling along the international boundary "between the Dominion of Canada and the United States of America." The Royal Commission on Customs and Excise, which was appointed early in 1926, was instructed to inquire into and report on the operation of the treaty. In consequence of that instruction it conducted an investigation and discovered that the spirit of the agreement was being broken.

It will be remembered that in the final report of this Commission it was pointed out that much of the smuggling had been facilitated by individuals, firms and corporations carrying on business in certain provinces of Canada as exporters of liquor. The Commission found that liquor upon which duty had not been paid had been cleared for certain ports which it never reached, that, through various channels, it found its way into the United States, thus defeating the object of the treaty. The Customs Act, of course, demands a bond requiring liquors exported from Canada to be delivered to the port named in the Customs entry, and requiring a landing certificate from the proper officers of the port of destination; and that in default of the obtaining of such landing certificate and compliance with the other conditions the bond should become due and payable. Many of those engaged in the business got round this part of the Act by using fraudulent landing certificates.

Recent discussions on the subject have been concerned mainly with the export of liquor upon which the duty has been paid. The practice is to enter liquor at Customs as being for export to certain ports in the United States, but it is well known that the liquor is never landed at a port recognizable by the United States authorities, and is smuggled into that country through various points where there are no recognized ports or Customs houses. The Commission declared in plain language that it was convinced that export warehouses in practically every case had been established for the sole purpose of selling liquor to be exported into the United States, and that they existed for no legitimate purpose whatever. Some of the houses had bonds and it was recommended that all of them be cancelled.

There is now in force a law which gives those provinces operating a liquor control system the sole right of importation. Certain distilleries, however, are asking for permission to import liquor for blending purposes, the official impression naturally being that were such a concession to be granted, further loopholes for evading the law would be discovered.

Under the Customs Act as it stands at present there is no legal restriction on the export of duty-paid liquor to the United States. But the point which the authorities have to decide is whether the treaty of 1924 is to mean anything at all, or remain an instrument quite incapable of giving effect to the spirit of its terms. If Canada desires to accept its moral obligation, it can do so by enacting a law prohibiting the export of liquor to the United States from this country. Canada is not in the habit of breaking her treaties.

INSURANCE AND AIR TRAVEL

THERE IS BEING HELD IN NEW YORK at the present time the first national aeronautical safety conference in the history of the United States. The principal business to which the delegates will apply themselves will be a consultation on the methods of solving problems which concern the use of the aeroplane under unusual conditions, such as flying in fog or storm.

This is an important gathering in more ways than one. The safety of pilot and passenger under all conditions obviously is a prime consideration; but there still is the important matter of insurance. It should be recalled that at the Conference of Health and Accident Underwriters' Association in Chicago a month ago the question of whether it was practical and profitable to include flying hazards in the ordinary accident policy without increasing the rate was discussed at some length. It was disclosed that some companies thought so, and that one already had included a covering clause without increasing the premium.

Some of the European life and accident underwriters already have followed this method with respect to their policyholders traveling on certain air lines. One of the delegates at the Chicago gathering pointed out, however, that "the European air lines have been operating for a number of years, and step by step have worked out their own system, so that now there are practically no hazards." While air lines on this continent were being carefully developed, the business was really only in its infancy, and on that account this delegate thought it would be too risky a business for the insurance companies of this continent to follow the European example.

The degree of perfection to which the air services of the Old World have been brought is convincingly illustrated in the recent report of the Imperial Airways Limited, the concern which controls the British flying services. In the last three years this company has carried more than 50,000 passengers over 1,700,000 miles without accident.

This record of achievement in a business which took practical form less than ten years ago implies that it should not be long before Canadian and United States life and accident underwriters will be able to give their clients the same covering as the European companies—without increasing their premium charges. In any event, this matter is of considerable interest to the general public, since, before another quarter of a century has gone, travel through the air will be almost as common as travel on land and sea.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

INSECT PESTS

The New York Sun

The economic entomologists, whose business is insect control, are confident of victory in the long run, but it is rather disconcerting to learn that the battle is going against them at present. Losses due to insects are said to be increasing; strangely enough, the reason assigned is the advance of civilization. Modern nations import plants and animals and their products from all parts of the world. Along with these come the insects that live upon them. Thus local pests tend to become universal.

LABOR TROUBLES IN AUSTRALIA

The Melbourne Age

Australia is now at the crossroads. She is reaping the consequences of legislative experiments in the creation of purely artificial conditions, which as experts clearly saw, would only suit times of abounding prosperity. It is now clearly demonstrated that undue concessions to particular classes of workers are detrimental to labor as a whole and that the country must stand or fall by its ability to produce at costs commensurate with those of its competitors.

DISILLUSIONMENT

The Sherbrooke Tribune

The farmer's son who goes looking for a good job and a high salary in the city is frequently disappointed. Generally he finds poverty where he thought he would find ease and abundance. In fact, those who have thus left the substance for the shadow multiply in our big cities to-day, and it is difficult for many of them now to tear themselves away from the shacks where they live, and the drudgery on which they eke out a bare existence and the tainted air which they breathe.

A COMPARISON OF WAGES

The Vancouver Sun

If you don't think that the Canadian laborer is a whole lot better off than his European contemporaries, glance at these figures just issued by the Department of Labor: Bricklayers, for instance, average the following daily wages: In France, $1.37; in Germany, $1.84; in Austria, $1.39; in Canada, $1.25.

Carpenters fare thus: In England, $2.56; in Germany, $1.86; in Italy, $1.82; in Canada, $1.16.

Building trades laborers draw these daily rates: In Austria, $1.12; in Germany, $1.47; in Italy, 80c; in Canada, $1.00.

And that difference isn't eaten up by higher costs of living, either. Wages in this country now average 129 per cent. higher than in 1913, while living costs are only seventy-five per cent. higher. In other words, an hour of work to-day will enable a Canadian workman to buy thirty per cent. more than it would buy him before the war.

With respect to matters of this kind it is that if anything can be done to promote the development of this Province, particularly as related to the success of those located on the land, it is the policy of our company to give every possible assistance.

In the case of the poultrymen, you are conversant with the steps we have taken during the past five years to assist in developing this business. The different features connected therewith need not be elaborated upon here. All we wish to state is that we look to this industry to become one of the greatest in British Columbia and fully realize what its success will mean to the Province as a whole, as well as to the welfare of a business such as we are conducting.

Under the circumstances, we feel we need hardly assure you that any sound proposal decided upon by the poultrymen should be suitable for the purpose and have the effect of promoting the interests of the industry as a whole, will have our heartiest co-operation.

We might inform you further that should the meeting of delegates, after due deliberation, decided against the formation of the proposed egg pool at the present time we will be prepared to give favorable consideration to the question of assisting to accomplish the same end by a joint working arrangement whereby we would handle their surplus production of eggs on a consignment basis at cost.

In return for this service, however, we would expect the poultrymen to reciprocate and purchase their feed requirements from us on a basis which would give a fair and reasonable return on our capital.

If so desired, we shall be pleased to discuss this proposal at your convenience and in the meantime are only too glad to assure you of our hearty co-operation and goodwill in the efforts now being put forth to further the development of this business as an important commercial factor in the community.

SEAPLANES OR LANDPLANES ON LOCAL AIR ROUTES

To the Editor:—Having read the various statements advocating the continued use of land planes on local air routes it seems to the writer that to enable the traveling public to form their own conclusions the following remarks may be of interest.

The official recommendation that seaplanes or amphibians be used on local air routes is based on the fact that the latter type of aircraft is the most suitable. Personally I favor seaplanes rather more than land planes, but the grounds for the latter type, although having all the safety advantages of a seaplane, are unnecessary on the routes under consideration, which are 100 per cent water propositions, and therefore the ability to alight on the ground becomes a superfluous additional expense and weight to the seaplane.

Regarding the carrying capacity of flying boats the fact is that the British built short "Calcutta" flying boat to be operated from England to the Channel Islands carries fifteen passengers and a crew of four. No doubt the bad visibility encountered on that route at certain times of the year played an important part in the selection of a flying boat. A similar type of flying boat has flown from England to Australia being simply moored out at night in all kinds of weather in the same manner as ordinary boats. Actually they were left in the water so much that they had to be beached for the removal of whiskers and barnacles from the hull.

The suggestion that the structure would be unduly strained by use on the water is unwarranted as both seaplanes and flying boats have been used extensively for years without any such abnormal strains which would reduce the safety of the machine. All types of aircraft of course are subjected to various strains in the course of their use, but these are provided for in the design and construction of any reputable aircraft. Land planes and flying boats have been used for years on the part of some people for seaplanes imported from our neighbors to the South, when the finest aircraft and motors in the world can be obtained from Great Britain. It is difficult to understand. It is actually possible to obtain one of the most suitable types of seaplanes for the local air service which are built in Canada. I am referring to the Vickers Fairchild Canby Monoplane Seaplane flown by Commander Godfrey across Canada—recently. The fact that this seaplane was subjected to very great strains, ultimately came to grief on the Peace River does not in any way indicate the unsuitability of this machine on the local air routes. That the occupants reached safety by reason of being able to climb to the floats is worthy of note. Where would they have been if using a land plane? From the various reports it appears that the crash was due to alighting on very shallow water in poor visibility, after which the momentum of the machine drifted it into deep water where it sank to the level of the wings.

In the writer's opinion the buoyant type of land plane is not suitable for our local air service. In the first place such a machine is very likely to be severely damaged if a landing is made on the water, which means that the buoyancy arrangements may easily become ineffective. Also a pilot would be tempted to try everything else, even to pushing on through the fog, rather than land such a plane on the water. A seaplane could always be safely landed before the visibility became too bad on the local routes.

I might also call attention to the recommendations for seaplanes by the recent official board of inquiry, which incidentally was composed of highly experienced aeronautical experts who would no doubt have obtained full and complete information as to local conditions before making such recommendations. As to the financial standpoint, the writer is convinced that the local air service could be operated by suitable seaplanes with inexpensive floating docks at each city at little, if any, greater cost of operation than land planes, and surely the possibility of slightly reduced profits should be placed in a secondary position to that of the safety of the traveling public.

An example which has been cited of the air service operated from Florida to various islands in the Caribbean Sea on land planes is not any indication as to the suitability of that type for local use. We have the serious problem of fog to grapple with, and I believe that the fog difficulty in Florida is practically nil. Again the Florida route may not prove protected at each point of call, such as we enjoy here, but on the other hand may have good flying grounds on the various islands. Such a case would greatly influence the selection of aircraft from among the various types of seaplanes. Because some people are getting away with the highly hazardous proceeding of regularly operating land planes over long stretches of water, it is safe to prove by any means that it is safe.

"It will be a very unfortunate thing for aviation in Victoria if the local air service is resumed in a land plane. This type of aircraft will increase its suitability has in no uncertain way demonstrated its unsuitability. From a financial point of view it appears preferable to purchase say three seaplanes carrying four passengers each for just about the same amount of money as the large land machine would cost. If such planes had been in use a disaster most probably would not have occurred, and even if it did the service would still be in operation with the other two seaplanes. The putting of all one's financial eggs into one basket does not appeal to me very greatly.

Now that it is evident that seaplane traffic to Victoria will increase considerably in the very near future our city should give serious consideration to the establishment of suitable docking facilities for the use of seaplanes. It is about time that Victoria stirred herself in this direction and make it evident to the rest of Canada that we do not rest being left out of the itinerary of Commander Godfrey's recent epoch-making flight. It is necessary for a number of people to agitate for action and the writer's efforts will be of little use unless Victoria can be made to realize that something should be done immediately to save our city from being neglected as the Pacific Terminal Airport.

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relieve food and digest it properly. Tanlac has a wonderful remedy for relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Mrs. Doris Bell, of 317 Grey Street, London, Ont., writes as follows: "I had suffered for years with stomach trouble. Gas would build up so I could hardly catch my breath. My nerves were shattered. I did not sleep. I became weak and run down, and spent enough on medicine to furnish a home. Two months after starting Tanlac, however, I had gained eleven pounds and was entirely free of indigestion. Now I have no gas or pains in my stomach. It is good medicine made of roots, herbs and bark. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you."

BLAMES GIRL FOR TROUBLES

Young Church Member
Started Accusations, Says
Unfrocked Baptist

Rev. E. J. Plenderleith Plans to Start Life Anew in Australia

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—Labeling the action of the Santa Ana Baptist Association as "un-Christian," Ernest J. Plenderleith, unfrocked pastor of the Anaheim, Cal., Baptist Church, turned his back on his accusers yesterday to start life anew in Australia.

Plenderleith was expelled Monday on charges involving six girls of his former congregation at Vancouver, B.C.

"The charges are false," he said. "The church council was stacked against me. My accusers were the jury. I am through with the church forever."

Plenderleith said the accusations began with a seventeen-year-old girl whom he had dismissed from helping at the church because "she imagined she was in love."

"The girl felt she had been injured," he said, "and she began to accuse me. I was brought in for the little duties but they all talked, he said.

"Twice I have been before the immigration authorities about these charges," he said, "and both times have been held innocent."

WOMEN DISCUSS DOUKHOBORS

Institute Conference Says
They Are a Danger
Economically

Creston, B.C., Oct. 4.—Doukhobors, their ways, their faults and good points were all fully discussed at the big Kootenay district Women's Institutes' convention here Wednesday.

Mrs. R. W. Chalmers of Tarama led the discussion which arose during a resolution on immigration. That the Doukhobors practically mined their land, returning nothing to the soil, that garden produce sold in Kootenay was ripened often in unsanitary and unhealthy ways, that the Doukhobors were economically a danger, were several of the points stressed by Mrs. Chalmers.

She declared that markets for white ranchers in the Kootenays were spoiled by Doukhobor under-selling and that the settlers sold without licenses.

"Only by mixed farming can the Canadian ranchers make a living under economic pressure of the Doukhobors who had taken their markets," said Mrs. Chalmers.

MENUS FOR THE FAMILY

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Chilled apple sauce, cereal, cream, fish balls, tomato sauce, cornmeal and wheat muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Stuffed eggplant, raisin bread, peach and melon salad, milk, or tea.

Dinner—Cauliflower cocktail, mock fillet mignon, French fried potatoes, New England succotash, peach cream in cantaloupes, milk, coffee.

Don't forget the simple expedient of shaping ground round steak in small flat cakes and binding with a strip of bacon held firmly with wooden toothpicks. These can be pan-broiled or broiled in the broiler just like real fillet mignon.

The two heavily advertised boxers were putting up a terrible exhibition of extreme caution in the face of danger.

They had been dancing around the ring for over quarter of an hour without either giving a punch.

At the moment they were glaring at each other along the tops of their extended arms with very ferocious expressions, but they were the six feet apart and standing in attitudes suggesting anything but combat.

Suddenly there came a hoarse shriek from the cheaper seats.

"Separate 'em!" it said.

A deacon is the lowest kind of a Christian.

A monastery is a place of monsters.

Marriage is a sacrament where a priest unites a man and woman in fatal union.

The Bible is against bigamy when it says no man can serve two masters.

False doctrine is when a doctor gives wrong stuff to a man.

Any Woman Can Look Stylish

By MAE MARTIN

Most stylish looking women know simple ways to make last season's things conform to this season's styles. Thousands of them have learned how easily they can transform a dress or blouse, or coat, by the quick magic of home tinting or dyeing. With true, fadeless Diamond Dyes, anyone can do this successfully. The "know-how" is in the dye. Diamond Dyes don't streak or spot like inferior dyes. New, fashionable tints appear like magic over the out-of-style or faded colors. Tinting with Diamond Dyes is easy as tinting and dyeing takes just a little more time. Only Diamond Dyes produce perfect results. They have been perfected by over 50 years' experience. Insist on them and save disappointment.

"Color Craft," my big new book of dollar-saving hints, will be sent you FREE. Write Mae Martin, Diamond Dyes, Windsor, Ont.

LONE WOMAN IS PARISH COUNCIL

English Village. Ruled By
Former Teacher; Husband
Busy, Too

London, Oct. 4.—Because nobody attended the annual elections for parish councilors a village woman has been appointed to carry out all the duties of the parish council at Gillingthorpe, Essex, and she is now sole ruler of the village.

The council is Mrs. L. E. Pannell, the wife of Charles Pannell, the village rate collector, wheelwright, carpenter and undertaker.

Mrs. Pannell now holds even more positions than her husband, because the Essex County Council has appointed her to act as the entire parish council.

Mrs. Pannell, who is just over forty, was appointed the monarch of this community of nearly 400 people, with a rateable value of something under £2,000.

When she was a school teacher at Great Maplestead, a neighboring village, in 1915, she was appointed the assistant overseer, and held the appointment until last year, when the new Rating and Valuation came into operation and her husband was appointed rate collector. She inherits her taste for local government, her father having been an assistant overseer and an assessor of taxes for more than twenty years.

Her husband considers that the "Parish Council" learned how to run a parish through ruling her home.

He said:

"Through looking after her home and her two children, she has learned management. Besides, she knows every stick and stone of the village—every villager and every trade—and for a long time has been concerned in local government, as assistant overseer and parish clerk."

Members of the Fellowship Club met yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. Hannah Wall, Spring Road, to hear the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Panthorpe and the report of the raffle of the embroidered pillowcases presented by Mrs. Mallow and won by Mrs. Wiffen, ticket No. 102. Mrs. Mallow and Mrs. Hilbert were appointed a committee to look after the weekly visits to the aged and infirm wards at the Jubilee Hospital. The club will hold its next silver tea and card party on Wednesday afternoon and evening, October 17, at the Forum rooms, 717 Pandora Avenue.

Members of the Kuntika Club to the number of over thirty paid a surprise visit last night to Miss Wigley, who is shortly leaving her home on Burdett Avenue to take up residence at the Waldron Apartments. The visitors all wore fancy costume, and an amusing evening was much enjoyed.

During the evening Miss Cameron, the president, on behalf of the club, presented Mrs. Wigley with a charming gift, the handwork of Mrs. G. Maynard, as a token of the members' appreciation of Miss Wigley's generous hospitality on numerous occasions.

Mrs. R. P. Matheson read a poem composed by herself in honor of the occasion.

The Alexandra Club rooms presented a charming appearance on Wednesday afternoon with beautiful Autumn flowers and foliage, presented and arranged by Mrs. H. Puckle and Mrs. Stewart in honor of the guest of the club, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, who was welcomed by a bouquet of flowers by Mrs. Agnew.

President, Mrs. C. de V. Schofield gave a lucid talk on the Kellogg Pact, outlining the gradual moulding of public opinion in the United States by means of articles in the press and educational talks, which had resulted in the Kellogg Pact, and was the biggest step yet taken for stabilizing the peace of the world.

At the conclusion Mrs. Thomson expressed the thanks of all present to Mrs. Schofield for her brilliant speech, which she said should be an incentive to each one to do all in her power to work for the fulfillment of the great vision. After the presentation of an exquisite bouquet of roses by Mrs. William Grant, Mrs. McMicking expressed her thanks at the gifts and the honor done her in her usual happy manner, after which tea was served under the co-operation of Miss Donald.

Who was assisted by Mrs. Hunt, Miss Marjorie Puckle, and Miss Sheila Stewart. Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Puckle pouring tea. At the table with Mrs. McMicking were Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mrs. C. de V. Schofield, Lady McBride, Mrs. William Grant, Mrs. Luntrell, Miss Grease, Mrs. Longworth, Miss Ravenhill, Mrs. A. K. Munro and Mrs. D. B. McConnan.

The club will hold its next silver tea and card party on Wednesday afternoon and evening, October 17, at the Forum rooms, 717 Pandora Avenue.

Members of the Kuntika Club to the number of over thirty paid a surprise visit last night to Miss Wigley, who is shortly leaving her home on Burdett Avenue to take up residence at the Waldron Apartments. The visitors all wore fancy costume, and an amusing evening was much enjoyed.

During the evening Miss Cameron, the president, on behalf of the club, presented Mrs. Wigley with a charming gift, the handwork of Mrs. G. Maynard, as a token of the members' appreciation of Miss Wigley's generous hospitality on numerous occasions.

Mrs. R. P. Matheson read a poem composed by herself in honor of the occasion.

LONE WOMAN IS PARISH COUNCIL

English Village. Ruled By
Former Teacher; Husband
Busy, Too

London, Oct. 4.—Because nobody attended the annual elections for parish councilors a village woman has been appointed to carry out all the duties of the parish council at Gillingthorpe, Essex, and she is now sole ruler of the village.

The council is Mrs. L. E. Pannell, the wife of Charles Pannell, the village rate collector, wheelwright, carpenter and undertaker.

Mrs. Pannell now holds even more positions than her husband, because the Essex County Council has appointed her to act as the entire parish council.

Mrs. Pannell, who is just over forty, was appointed the monarch of this community of nearly 400 people, with a rateable value of something under £2,000.

When she was a school teacher at Great Maplestead, a neighboring village, in 1915, she was appointed the assistant overseer, and held the appointment until last year, when the new Rating and Valuation came into operation and her husband was appointed rate collector. She inherits her taste for local government, her father having been an assistant overseer and an assessor of taxes for more than twenty years.

Her husband considers that the "Parish Council" learned how to run a parish through ruling her home.

He said:

"Through looking after her home and her two children, she has learned management. Besides, she knows every stick and stone of the village—every villager and every trade—and for a long time has been concerned in local government, as assistant overseer and parish clerk."

Members of the Fellowship Club met yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. Hannah Wall, Spring Road, to hear the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Panthorpe and the report of the raffle of the embroidered pillowcases presented by Mrs. Mallow and won by Mrs. Wiffen, ticket No. 102. Mrs. Mallow and Mrs. Hilbert were appointed a committee to look after the weekly visits to the aged and infirm wards at the Jubilee Hospital. The club will hold its next silver tea and card party on Wednesday afternoon and evening, October 17, at the Forum rooms, 717 Pandora Avenue.

Of Interest to Women

RICH AMERICAN TO WED SWIMMER

World-cruise Romance of Boston Man and Instructor
on Boat

London, Oct. 4.—Romance that began during a world cruise on the steamship Franconia was revealed when London papers told of the engagement of Francis Lee Higginson, third son of a Boston family socially and financially prominent, to Miss Dorothy Lucas, twenty-three-year-old English girl who was a swimming instructor aboard the vessel. The marriage will take place on October 10 at St. Nicholas's Church, Blundell Sands, near Liverpool, where Miss Lucas lives.

Miss Lucas, an attractive brunette, met Mr. Higginson Tuesday at Liverpool when he landed from the Franconia. Reporters from London papers questioned the Boston youth, who said: "TAKES HIM FOR LIFE"

"Our romance has been a closely guarded secret, but as Miss Lucas has quite made up her mind to have me for life there is no further need of concealment. I first spoke to her last winter after she had given a swimming exhibition on the Franconia and the length of the cruise gave me more than sufficient time to decide that she is the only girl for me."

Miss Lucas's father is an engineering superintendent with the Furness Withy Steamship Company. She is the same age as the bridegroom, whose six-foot figure is known in financial circles in London, where he spent some time in connection with Higginson and Company, the London branch of his father's firm, Lee, Higginson and Company, Boston.

He was a member of the class of 1927 at Harvard University, of which his father was formerly an overseer. His grandfather was prominent in financial circles, and his great uncle, the late Henry Lee Higginson, was chiefly responsible for founding the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Widower to Lose Wife's Estate If He Remarries

The growing practice of husbands inserting a clause in their will by which their widows forfeit the whole or a great part of the money left them if they remarry has been copied by a woman in England, whose will has just been made public.

Mrs. Sarah Annie Perks of Bilton, Staffordshire, who died recently, left an estate of the gross value of £11,406. She left her business as a pawnbroker to her husband, Thomas Perks, while a widower, directing him to pay £3 a week to her daughter, Dorothy Stevens. In the event of his remarriage the business goes to her daughter.

Although the London County Council has provided homes for 26,000 people, the Bishop of Southwark recently asserted that there still are 100,000 people in the metropolis unsuitably housed.

CHILDREN ENJOYING MILK DRILL

These are some of the kiddies in the city schools who benefit by the milk distribution undertaken by the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter I.O.D.E. That the work is of untold value in building up the health of under-nourished children is shown by the following unsolicited letter, sent by Dr. D. Donald, school medical inspector, to the Chapter:

"May I, on behalf of the medical department of the city schools, thank your Chapter for the milk you so kindly provide for the children requiring it in our schools. The Chapter confidently anticipates the same generous response to their appeal as has been accorded in previous years."

continue to do so as the results are so noticeable in the health of the children. On Saturday the Chapter will hold its annual tag day, the proceeds of which will be used for the purchase of milk throughout the year. The Chapter confidently anticipates the same generous response to their appeal as has been accorded in previous years."

BOER SEEKS OUT FORMER ENEMY

Colonel Collins Eager to Pay
For Boots Taken From Canadian Scout

Truro, N.S., Oct. 4.—Colonel W. R. Collins, of the South African delegation, sails for England from Sydney, N.S., Friday morning. He will not therefore be able to meet S. W. Muncey of Vancouver, the Canadian scout of the Boer War, whom Colonel Collins sought right across the Dominion and whose whereabouts he learned only yesterday.

But Colonel Collins has wired to J. B. Wessels, also of the South African delegation, to meet Mr. Muncey if possible in Vancouver.

Mr. Wessels left Halifax for New York this morning. He is returning to South Africa by way of Australia and sails from Vancouver for the Aorangi on the 17th.

Mr. Wessels, like Colonel Collins, is a Dutch speaking South African. Like Collins, he fought in the South African War on the side of his countrymen.

Colonel Collins was eager to meet Mr. Muncey, now living at 1236 27th Avenue West, Vancouver, to pay him for a pair of boots he took him during the Boer War when the Colonel fought for the Boers and Mr. Muncey was a Canadian scout.

Home Cooking Sale.—The ladies of the Welfare Club of St. Louis College will hold a sale of home cooking on Saturday morning in the basement of David Spencer's Limited, through the courtesy of the management.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB TO-MORROW

At the meeting of the Women's Canadian Club to be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in the Empress Hotel, Frederick Philip Grove, noted Canadian author and speaker, will give an address on "Canada—The Spiritual Awakening of an Individual." Mrs. Mary McCoy Jameson will be the soloist.

FASHION PLAQUE

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

SPANKING AN ANTIQUATED METHOD OF DISCIPLINE

Mrs. C. M. writes: "I read your column daily and receive a lot of help from it. My little girl will be two next month. She is healthy and happy now, thanks to some of your suggestions. Her first year she had whooping cough and measles and took cold so easily that she was hardly ever free from one. She hasn't had a cold or allment since I began cod liver oil last winter. This summer I substituted sunbaths. Shall I begin the oil again this winter?"

"Her daddy and I agree on all but one subject. He thinks because she is bright, talks plainly and learns easily that she should mind perfectly, and if she doesn't, she should be punished. He is not cruel and loves her dearly, but if he follows this policy I think he will ruin her. She is completely trained, and I accomplished that without spanking."

"My sister's baby weighed eight pounds at birth and now weighs fifteen at three months. He is breast fed. Will he need cod liver oil this winter? Yours is a great work. I hope I haven't taken up too much of your time."

PRESS BALL IS POPULAR

New Dances, Lighting Effects, Stunts and Novelties to Feature Ball To-morrow

The Autumn Ball to be held to-morrow evening at the Empress Hotel will be the most popular of the many successful parties sponsored by the Victoria Press Club, judging by the demand for tickets.

In addition to the long array of new dances, the Press Club has arranged for vocal and dancing numbers by well-known entertainers.

Much attention has been paid to lighting effects and decorations, and supper arrangements are in the hands of a special committee.

NANCY PAGE

HAND-MADE LINGERIE IS COLORFUL AND DAINY

By Florence La Gank

One of the gifts which the returning traveler from New York brought to Peter Page's niece was a piece of hand made lingerie. The material was an imported nylon in pale robin's egg blue. It was liberally sprinkled with quaint little roses in rose with tiny green leaves and black lines for accent.

The panties were made as simply as possible. The only trimming was a binding of narrow, narrow black, put on by hand. It was beautifully done. The panties were held in place by an elastic run in the hem at the top. Simple slips to wear with these panties are made of same material and bound just as the two tone ribbon affords the only other trimming.

To make them a piece of material thirty-two inches long is used. It is doubled thus giving a depth of fifteen inches after the heading is taken off. The width of material is twenty-five inches. The seams are at two sides. When the gift was being purchased the buyer had been shown another type in which the fullness was held in place by tiny pleats. These are hard to put back in after laundering, however. The fullness made by run in elastic is easier to get and to keep.

These might be made of crepe de Chine, lingerie silk or even figured crepe. Make the binding narrow and use some contrasting color. An orchid ground with misty blue and green figures can be bound in deeper mauve or purple.

General Von Hindenburg, in the midst of a great battle, saw a man running from a very close situation.

"What are you running for?" demanded the disgusted general in a stern voice.

"Gott und Himmel!" roared the soldier. "I'm running because I can't fly."

200 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

So delightfully refreshing—
they said 200 years ago

"There's naught like a cup of Fry's for refreshment after the shops, my dear," they said in the long ago.

"It does buck one up"—"Just the thing after a hard day or a strenuous game," they say today.

Such have been the comments on Fry's Cocoa for two centuries—from women in many countries—in cottage and castle—in old lands and new.

The wonderful sustaining qualities of this famous beverage come from skilful preparation of the choicest beans. Its taste-tempting flavour is the result of 200 years of "knowing how."

Have you a tin of FRY'S in the house, now? Every dealer sells it. Look for the familiar FRY yellow label—it is a guarantee of the utmost purity and value in Cocoa.

"And such delicious
flavour"—

THE OLDEST COCOA AND CHOCOLATE HOUSE IN THE WORLD

"Everyday Care of the Everyday Child." After two years cod liver oil isn't usually essential. If used in small quantities and with benefit to your child, there is no harm in continuing this Winter. The small baby, despite his enormous gain, should have it.

"Amazing—so many women must learn this from others"

—writes a Toronto hostess

The embarrassment of this grave social offense is finally ended. This scientific sanitary pad is now treated by patented process to end all offense.

WHERE smart women gather socially—or in business—even the most attractive are guilty of offending others at certain times. Yet they, themselves, seldom realize it. When told, they become miserably self-conscious. They try in vain to overcome the difficulty by makeshift methods. Now science offers safe and certain relief from this fear.

Kotex now scientifically deodorizes Millions of women have learned to depend on Kotex within the last ten years. It has brought them better health, greater peace-of-mind under trying conditions. Now comes an added advantage. Kotex chemists have discovered (and patented) a process that absolutely ends all odors. After several years of research, the one remaining problem in connection with sanitary pads is solved.

No more bulky outlines

That awful feeling of being conspicuous because of the bulkiness of old-time methods is gone, too. Kotex pads are rounded and tapered so there is no evidence of sanitary protection when worn. You may add or remove layers of filter as needed—a thing all women appreciate. There is a new softness, because both filter and gauze have been specially treated. Finally, Kotex is so easy to dispose of, eliminating all need of laundering.

Buy a box today, at any drug, dry goods or departmental store. 60c for a box of twelve.

Deodorizes . . . and 4 other important features:

- 1—Softer gauze ends chafing; pliable filter absorbs so no odor substance can.
- 2—Corners are rounded and tapered; no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown.
- 3—Deodorizes—safely, thoroughly, by a new and exclusive patented process.
- 4—Adjust it to your needs; filter may be made thinner, thicker, narrower as required, and
- 5—It is easily disposed of; no unpleasant laundry.

Baseball Series Offers Unusual Opportunity For the Heroic Stuff

Unsung Substitute or Reclaimed Veteran Will Have Great Chance to Leap Into Limelight in World's Series; Mark Koenig, Yankee Shortstop, Was Rated as Last Year's Hero; No Series Is Complete Without It's Hero or Goat; Alexander, Hoyt, Ruth and Mar-anville All Been Acclaimed

No world's series is complete without its hero, or its goat. The wreath of wild razzberries is bestowed, a glance over baseball's main chapters reveals, as impartially as the crown of laurel. Seldom has a world's series offered as much opportunity for heroic stuff, as much chance for the lowly substitute, aging veteran or ambitious youth to jump into the spotlight, as does the current tussle between the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals. Will one of the stars of other years repeat or will some obscure performer leap into the twilight with a great catch, home run, daring play or startling pitching feat?

BAMBINO WAS "BUST"

Babe Ruth can testify as to how it feels to have been the goat or a hero. The Bambino was a "bust" in 1922 when his batting mark fell to a miserable .118, but four years later in St. Louis, the big fellow was acclaimed as he seldom ever has been when he laced out three homers in one afternoon in the enemy stronghold.

Mark Koenig, in a much shorter career, also has known the two extremes. The sturdy Yankee shortstop then in his first major league year, contributed the error that started the Cardinals on their winning rally in the final game of the 1926 series. But last year in the Yankees clean sweep over the Pirates, Mark was the outstanding star, leading the regulars of both clubs at bat and shining in the field.

ONE OF GREATEST

Old Pete Alexander, forty-year-old pitcher, probably would not make a Greek statue envious but the veteran was cast in heroic mould in a Cardinal victory two years ago. These years have exacted some toll from this remarkable Nebraskan but he still is one of the greatest "money pitchers" of them all and may still have the Indian sign on the Yankees.

Much younger in years but a veteran of five world's series, Waite Hoyt, the Yankee twirling ace, has known the glamour of being proclaimed a world's series hero.

The Brooklyn undertaker pitched sensational ball against the Giants in the 1921 series, the first the Yankees participated in and he is ready to shoulder the main burden again for the House of Huggins.

While these few erstwhile inmates of the Hall of Fame will be knocking at the door again others will be striving to climb up on the pedestal. There's many a slip on the way up, as John Mijus found out in 1927 by losing a wild pitch and losing the final game just when it looked as though he would complete a heroic pitching stand.

CARDS HAVE STARS

Of the Cardinals clan there will be the picturesque little Rube Bresser, back in the world series fourteen years after he helped the Braves upset the Athletics. It would be a dramatic touch for the "Rube" to lead the team through. If not, there is Frankie Frisch, capable of superior stuff around second base, or Jim Bottomley and Chick Hafey, the big bats.

There will be a chance, among the Yankees, for Cedric Durst, or Ben Paschal to show their calibre as replacements for the injured Earl Combs in centre, or for old Tom Zachary and Young Henry Johnson to demonstrate their pitching stuff, should Hoyt or Piggas, the matadors, fall.

FORMER HEROES

Here are a few of the world's series heroes of the past ten years, additions to a previous roll that includes Mathewson, Combs, Baker and Gowdy.

1918—George Whitman, outfielder, Boston Red Sox.

1919—Dickie Kerr, pitcher, Chicago White Sox.

1920—Stanley Coveleskie, pitcher, Cleveland Indians.

1921—Waite Hoyt, pitcher, Yankees; Johnny Rawlings, infielder, Giants.

1922—Heinie Groh, third baseman, New York Giants.

1923—Herb Pennock, Yankees; Casey Stengel, outfielder, Giants.

1924—Bucky Harris, second baseman; Walter Johnson, pitcher, Washington Senators.

1925—Kiki Cuyler, outfielder, Pittsburgh Pirates.

1926—Grover Cleveland Alexander, pitcher; and Tony Thoenow, shortstop, Cardinals; Babe Ruth, Yankees.

1927—Mark Koenig, shortstop, Yankees.

RESERVES GET SHOT AT SERIES

Many Injuries to Regulars Will Bring Second Line Players Into Action

Yankees Seem Best Fortified With Bench Hands; Regulars Will Start

New York, Oct. 4.—Soldiers of the second line are vital to any ball team over the long hard march of the regular campaign but not so important in the average world series.

Even a semi-crippled regular, almost invariably good "money" player, usually can keep himself up to the proper physical pitch for the blue ribbon sport. Several members of the Cardinals and the Yankees at this moment are planning such a stand, but the condition of the maimed and the wounded is such that reserves are certain to get a shot at the big games, and a secondary strength consequently become an important factor to be considered in the coming series.

WILL BOTH PLAY

The latest reports from medical headquarters made it almost certain that Cedric Durst and Ben Paschal will split up Earl Combs' patrol in the middle field, with Benny working against southpaws and Cedric against the normal pitchers. Babe Ruth's peculiar knee should take a serious turn both Paschal and Durst would be needed.

The American League champions are well fortified with bench hands to fill in on the inner wall, so well fortified that Huggins now plans to trade Joe Dugan's spectacular fielding for Eugene Robertson's sturdy southpaw swinging every time the Cards employ a right-hander. Durocher and Gaffney are no great wonders with the willow, but Huggins is lucky to have them with Lester still suffering from a shoulder strain and Koenig walking around on bruised and battered feet.

CARDS RESERVES

Little Tommy Thoenow, who hit for something better than 400 in the 1926 series against a lifetime mark of .300 in the 1927 world's baseball series. No series is complete without its hero or goat. Much speculation is taking part as to who will capture the title this year.

Roscoe Holm will take over right field from George Harper against southpaws.

In addition to four outfielders listed as regulars, the Cardinals have Ray Blades as a high-handed reserve and Orsatti for left-handed batting. Walter Rostiger is still convalescent from a broken ankle, and John Leonard and Howard Williamson are yet too green to be trusted with anything beyond pinch running.

World's Series Is Broadcast By NBC Network

Combined facilities of the National Broadcasting Company, reaching from coast to coast, are being used to broadcast the world series baseball games. The announcement followed receipt of official permission for the broadcasts from Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Commissioner of Baseball.

The complete series, no matter where the games are played, will be broadcast on the NBC network. The complete series, no matter where the games are played, will be broadcast on the NBC network.

"Y" Badminton Season Starts

The Y.M.C.A. Badminton Club will formally open the season with a social next Wednesday in the "Y" Building.

Last night several members of the association held their first practice on the courts and learned some of the finer points of the game from H. B. Witter and W. E. Harper, who will coach the players this year.

A much larger membership is expected this year. The club will have the use of the gymnasium from 5 to 8 o'clock on Wednesday evenings and from 4.30 to 7.30 o'clock on Saturdays.

Trains Rugbyites Inside—By Jimmy Thompson

Dr. Harry Hobbs, the popular and famous coach of the Toronto Balm Beach squad, Dominion rugby champions of last fall, is collecting another bang-up team this year. Although he lost a number of real stars, it does not follow that the team will be crippled, for he has gathered some very promising material together in Ross Robinson and the fast-traveling little "Buck" Billings, both of the former Oakwood C.I. city champions, also Alex Mackenzie, who made himself famous this summer when he paddled under the colors of the Parkdale Canoe Club and captured Dominion honors in his event at Lacrosse, Montreal.

According to Harry Hobbs, what helped his team most last year was the proper kind of a fighting spirit. This spirit that played such a great part the day the team won the title, was originated on the basketball floor. Harry doesn't believe in outdoor workouts on rainy days and prescribed this indoor timbering up.

This year he will again field a team that will not be burned up before the season is half over and when the time comes for the real test they will be in the pink of condition.

NAME OFFICIALS FOR FIGHT CARD

Roy Baker to Referee Fielding-Lewis Bout Saturday; Large Crowd Expected

Officials who will handle Saturday night's bouts at the Sons of Canada Hall, View Street, will be Roy Baker, who will officiate as referee, and Scotty McKay and C. Leck as judges. These officials were selected last night when the managers of the two fighters in the main event, Lewis and Fielding, got together to settle this matter.

The managers agree that in the event of a foul punch being delivered by either fighter the referee refrain from delivering a decision until such time as the injured fighter had been examined by the attending physician, who will decide whether it would be possible for the fighter to continue the contest after a few minutes rest.

If, in the doctor's opinion, the fighter can carry on the referee will instruct the fighters to resume the contest. In the event of the injured fighter refusing to carry on, the decision will be awarded to his opponent.

FINISH TRAINING
Fielding and Lewis finished their boxing last night and will not don the gloves again until they step into the ring on Saturday night. Both fighters are in excellent shape. The boys will do light training to-night, consisting of skipping, shadow boxing and bag punching, and will rest to-morrow.

They are both confident of victory, and the fans can look forward to a contest which should be a thriller from start to finish.

The advance sale of seats for the bouts has been particularly brisk, and it looks as if the boys will perform before a capacity crowd. The ring is being constructed at the end of the hall so that every available inch of space can be utilized for seating accommodation.

Challenge Shield Contest to Start At Colwood Club

The first eighteen holes of the Colwood Golf Club's handicap Challenge Shield competition will be played over the course on Sunday.

Full handicaps will be allowed and the thirty-two low scores will qualify for match play. The remaining competitors will be divided into flights and play off.

Post entries will be accepted. Players may select their opponents and set their own starting times.

In addition to the trophy, the runner-up, medalist and players coming first in the flights will receive prizes.

Reported Transfer Of Rogers Hornsby To Cubs Denied

New York, Oct. 4.—Report of the transfer of Rogers Hornsby from the Boston Braves to the Chicago Cubs for $250,000 and players was emphatically denied last night by interested persons both in Boston and in Chicago.

The story, printed in The New York Sun, said the manager of the Braves would play for the Bruins next season.

Hornsby recently signed a six year contract with Emil Fuchs, owner of the Braves, carrying a through to the season of 1934 at a salary generally reported to be $40,000, with a certain diminution if Hornsby was forced to retire from active playing in that period.

FAVORITES ARE HARD PRESSED IN PRO TOURNEY

Walter Hagen Has to Flash His Best Golf to Defeat Young Blanton 2 Up

Espinosa Wins on Thirty-seventh; Willie MacFarlane and Watrous Beaten

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 4.—Winning out by the narrowest of margins and in the tightest of matches, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa, favorites for the national professional golf championship, underwent a severe test of their courage and skill yesterday before they finally advanced to the quarter-final round. Sharing this bracket with them when the day's shooting was over were two more veterans, Jack Hutchinson and Leo Diegel, and a trio of newcomers, Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo.; Perry Del Cacho, Greensburg, Pa., and Fred Dudley, Los Angeles.

To-day's play pits Smith against Del Vecchio, Espinosa against Hutchinson, Sarazen against Dudley and Diegel against Hagen.

The big gallery was looking for fireworks in the match in which Sarazen downed the veteran, but the day's produce the birdie on the thirty-seventh green, and that was enough to save the day.

Hagen, similarly had to flash his best golf to beat off a great bid by young Blanton in the final eighteen holes, a courageous effort which squared the match with two holes to go and had even the great victor a bit worried. Upholding his reputation as a great match player, Hagen came through to win them both and take the match by a score of two up, but he had to shoot them both in par to do it.

PLAYED GIANT KILLER
A couple of boys who played giant killer with great success were Smith, who triumphed over Willie MacFarlane, one up, and Dudley, who downed Al Watrous, 3 and 2. Neither victory was expected.

Del Vecchio, the third of the youthful survivors, also sprang something of a surprise by defeating Chick Spencer, the lone Baltimore representative, in a half-rallying match that went to the thirty-seventh green before he eventually stowed it away, one up.

HORSE RACING

Joe Wright Is Given Banquet

Toronto, Oct. 4.—Joe Wright Jr., winner of the Diamond Sculls, 1928, was honored at a banquet last night by members of the Argonaut Rowing Club. Members of the eight-oared crew, which made such a creditable showing at the regatta, were also honored at the function along with Jack Guest, partner of Wright in the doubles at Amsterdam.

Wright was presented with a replica of the Diamond Sculls and a life membership in the club, while the others were given gold medals.

Toboggan Winner Of Rich Stakes

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 4.—Lord Derby's Toboggan, by Hurry On, out of Glacier, won the Jockey Club Stakes to-day.

M. de St. Alex's Bonny Boy was second and Baralunga was third. Nine ran. Toboggan won by two lengths and the same distance separated second and third.

The betting was 3 to 1, 20 to 1 and 20 to 1. The stakes were £2,000 and extras and the distance a mile and three-quarters.

"Torchy" Peden Tries Long Distance Riding And Makes Good Show

Rides 212 Miles in Twelve Hours, Averaging 24 Miles An Hour in Last Stretch of Marathon at Brixton; Saddle Soreness and Unfamiliar Course Were Big Handicap; Southal, Great English Rider, Quit After Riding 155 Miles

In his attempt at a long-distance race Bill Peden, Victoria's star cyclist, did exceptionally well according to a letter received by his parents to-day. Competing against the crack riders of England, "Torchy" finished seventh in a twelve-hour race held at Brixton, England, on September 15. In his twelve hours Peden covered 212 miles.

"Torchy" was riding under a severe handicap as he was troubled with saddle soreness, besides being unfamiliar with the course.

Southal, the great English rider, who was taking part in the event, quit after covering 155 miles.

During the twelve hours the riders attempted to cover as many miles as possible. The winner of the race rode 238 miles, the rider who finished second rode 232, and the third man, 228.

Bill's letter follows: "Well! Just think I survived a twelve-hour race. I did 212 miles and had more fun than I've crowded into one day since I left home. I made some mistakes. The chief one was foolish and cost me many miles. I started in the regulation uniform and an extra pair of shorts as the majority did. Between my extra shorts and narrow saddle I soon got very uncomfortable.

SOON CAUGHT UP
"I started last and caught about six riders in ten miles, one minute apart. Then I began to get saddle sore, after about sixty-eight miles I got off and left my extra shorts. I rested ten minutes and had given up hope of trying to win. I then rode to the first feeding station and spent about five minutes longer there than most of the riders. I did the hundred miles in about five hours and thirty-eight minutes after two stops. I just rode on thinking I would stop at the next feeding station, and after eating and resting would get on again and beat it for the next stop. I then saw I could make 200 miles so I timed myself for it. When I left the feeding station at 170 miles I had one hour and twenty-three minutes remaining of my twelve hours.

MADE FAST TIME
"I started riding all out then and passed quite a few more riders. I averaged twenty-four miles an hour, including two stops to get a rest from the saddle. This gave me a total of about 212 miles. I stopped about eight times or about forty minutes and was troubled all the way as I did not know the course and could not sit on the saddle. Had I not been troubled with the saddle I would have gone farther and undoubtedly been close to the winner. I placed seventh out of eighty-three riders.

I rode twelve miles to the station to get my muscles and mind a rest. The slightest bit tired. Southal, the great English rider, quit at 155 miles. The winner rode 238 miles, second 232, third 228, fourth 221 and fifth 218."

Soccer Referee Struck By Player

London, Oct. 4.—The referee of yesterday's Western League soccer game between Bristol Rovers reserves and Plymouth Argyle reserves at Bristol was assaulted by Plymouth's centre half, Pullen, when the latter was ordering off the field for rough play. Pullen struck the referee, cutting his lip and closing one eye. Pullen had been warned three times against rough play, and was ordered off the field for a fourth offence when he struck the official.

Billy Townsend Earns Draw With New Zealander

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Bert Brown of New Zealand and Billy Townsend of Vancouver, junior lightweights, fought ten fast rounds to a draw here last night in the season's opener fistic card at the Arena.

In the semi-final Pete Cerkan of Tacoma won a decision over George Clough of England in six rounds. Cerkan weighed 185 and Clough 173.

Bobby Eber, sixteen, former bantamweight champion of Canada, and Hector McDonald, Vancouver, fought a four-round draw.

Nels Ferguson, 140, of Vancouver, held Jimmy Beck of Tacoma, 140, to a draw, in four rounds.

SAY MILL SPARKS DAMAGED PREMISES

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Complaining that sparks and sawdust from the sawmill of Nanaimo Lumber Company Limited damaged their premises, James Bond and Mrs. Jean White, who reside about a mile outside Nanaimo, applied through their counsel, A. Leighton, to Mr. Justice W. A. MacDonald in supreme court for an injunction.

The application was adjourned two weeks after counsel for defendant company explained that there would be a change in the mill management by the end of the month and announced that his client was prepared to pay for any increased insurance which might be necessary. He added that an order, compelling the company to shut down its burner, would throw 200 men out of employment.

NORMA SEES THE WORLD

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 4.—If you would be a good actress, see the world, advises Norma Shearer, who recently returned from a trip to Europe.

"The theory that a girl must live the experience of the world as well as its happiness," she declares the film star. "But she must know life if she is to succeed as an actress. That knowledge may be obtained from experience. Or it may be obtained from observation. I believe the latter is the best."

FOREIGN CHARACTERS

"Screen players often are called upon to portray a foreign character. If one is to portray a French girl she should have a first-hand knowledge of France and its customs. Then the characterization is genuine."

However, Norma admits that she didn't see a great deal of the Europeans. She was too busy gazing at her recently acquired husband, Irving Thalberg, once known as the youngest executive in the motion picture industry.

Now that she has been to Europe and studied the people and conditions there, Norma will spend her time playing a strictly American girl in front of the camera for her next films at least. Later she may have an opportunity to depict one of the nationalities across the Atlantic.

THE WOMEN OF EUROPE

"Few of the women of the upper classes in Europe do anything but attend social functions and buy new clothes," says Miss Shearer. "Personally, I think that they are living the wrong kind of an existence."

"When a woman has nothing else to do, buying becomes a regular mania with her. She buys and buys just to be buying things and not because she

Norma Shearer . . . goes places and sees things.

Bobby Jones on Golf

Early in the past amateur championship, I found myself again entirely off my driving, as I had been in June at Olympia Fields. By a good deal of practice and a bit of experimenting before the tournament ended I was able to effect some improvement, although I never could regain absolute confidence in the wooden clubs.

The only interesting part of the above fact is that I discovered a fault which had never troubled me before, that of the too fast backswing, and Findlay Douglas was ruthless enough to inform me that it was a sure sign of advancing age.

"We all quicken the swing as we wants them. A woman should have a vocation the same as a man in order to keep her mind busy and be happy."

grow older," said Findlay. "It is the one thing I have to watch."

A TOO FAST BACKSWING

I don't think I ever before appreciated the full extent of damage a fast backswing could accomplish. The worst of it is that the result is just as likely to be a hook as a slice to that to guard against either is impossible. You simply find suddenly that it is impossible to keep within the limits of the fairway, and the explanation is apt to remain hidden until someone else notices it. It is very difficult for the player himself to realize that he is swinging too fast.

The cause, I suppose, is anxiety concerning the result of the stroke. Harold Hilton used to say of this player or that that "he did not appear happy playing this shot and seemed to want to have it over." That very nearly describes my feeling on each tee at Brae Burn. I actually began to dread the act of driving because I had no idea what would happen to the ball after I had hit it.

To correct this habit of quick hitting is a very difficult matter. I have tried to do it by consciously relaxing my grip and trying to employ a free easy swing. I have found that in that way I can effect a considerable improvement in timing, although I encounter other difficulties. The loose grip at the start very often remains loose too long, that does happen the club may meet the ball at almost any angle, most likely not the right one.

TRY LONGER BACKSWING

The safest thing to try, I think, is a longer backswing. A long backswing necessarily requires more time than a shorter one, and, if the player is thinking about going back far enough he is not apt to hit before he gets set. Hitting too soon—before the body is in position to hit—is the chief fault of the fast swinger. This tendency causes a marked curtailment of the swing; a short quick stroke quite apparently out of control.

Walter Gurnea is the only player I have ever watched who seemed to be able to swing fast and get away with it. But Walter's swing is always long even though fast and it is only fast when he is "letting out." He swings slowly when sparing a shot, and is then more likely to go wrong. A quick swing is a sure sign of a player who is out of control. It is therefore under control.

SPENCER LEADING TROTTER

Captures Three-year-old Crown For 1928 Season; Won Two Largest Stakes

Cleveland, Oct. 4.—Spencer, 2,02½, the big bay colt owned by David M. Look, of New York, definitely has established his right to wear the three-year-old trotting crown of the 1928 season.

This is as the result of his

New Big Four of U. S.

Here's the newly formed United States polo team which is playing the Argentine four at Meadow Brook, Long Island, for the championship of the Americas. The United States won the first game 7-6, while the Argentine took yesterday's battle 10-7. Those in the above picture, reading left to right, are as follows: Above, Malcolm Stevenson, Winston Guest, the new back. Below, Stephen Sanford Jr., the new No. 1; Thomas Hitchcock Jr., captain of the team.

glorious triumph in the historic Kentucky Futurity race at the Lexington, Ky., Grand Circuit meeting. He conquered Elia Volk, the Alabama filly that had defeated him in the Horseman Futurity at Indianapolis; Nellie Signal, winner of the Matron and Championship Stakes; Gayworthy, The Virginia, Senator, Scotland, Bogalusa the Great and Co-burn.

Spencer now will enter Winter quarters winner of the two richest three-year-old futurities of the year, the $66,000 Hambletonian and the Kentucky event, worth $14,000. In addition, he will have the distinction of leading the nation's trotters in money earnings for the season. He ranked first among the money-winning two-year-olds of 1927.

FINE RECORD

It is unlikely that any three-year-old trotter will beat Spencer's race mile of 2:02½, made in the Hambletonian, that stands as the fastest of the year by a performer of that age and gait. Spencer, a development of the great Indianapolis trainer, Lon McDonald, is the best pupil that has emerged from his school. It is extremely unfortunate that McDonald was unable to drive the colt in the big events due to severe injuries sustained in a spill at the North Randall track here August 12. Billy Leese, the New York driver, had the honor of doing the piloting.

A GREAT TRIUMPH

Spencer's success also has proved a great triumph for David M. Look, who owns Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky. The latter not only owns the colt, but bred him and in addition owns his sire, Lee Tide, and dam, Petrea. Spencer is a glowing example of the golden Axworthy-Peter the Great cross. Lee Tide is a great grandson of Axworthy and Petrea is a daughter of Peter the Great.

In connection with the Kentucky Futurity, it is interesting to note that every Hambletonian winner thus far has won it. Guy McKinney, winner of the inaugural Hambletonian in 1926, turned the trick as did Isola's Worthy last year.

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 6.—The nation's leading trotters and pacers will battle it out in thirty-four events at the light harness meeting scheduled for the Ft. Miami Grand Circuit track here, October 8 to 19. Many of them are claiming affairs.

The chief offering will be $2,500 American Horse Breeder two-year-old trotting futurity. It is carded for Tuesday, October 9, and will bring together the star juveniles that competed in the junior division of the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington, Ky.—Volomite, winner of the event, owned by the famous Indiana sportsman, Thomas D. Taggart, Jr.; Walter Dear, Contender, Margaret Belwin, Egan, Hayes, Senator Ford and Bob Galloway. Volomite is the fastest two-year-old trotter of the year, sporting a time record of 2:06, while Walter Dear holds the racing mark of 2:08½.

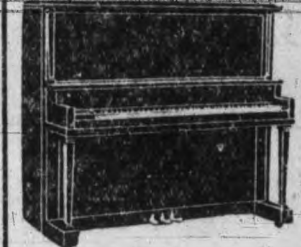

The stables now competing at Lexington will be shipped here following the close of the session, October 6. Joseph M. McGraw, of Washington, Pa., the noted Grand Circuit official, and Stephen G. Phillips, of Xenia, Ohio, have been engaged as presiding judge and starter respectively by the Toledo Driving Club.

The RAILWAYS of Canada

THE citizens of Canada are under everlasting obligation to the far-sighted railway officials who have provided them with facilities for a rapid and permanent growth.

What appears like a sudden and marvellous expansion in trade and industry is the logical result of the change from preparation to fulfilment. Canada now has 54,000 miles of railway track, a greater mileage per capita than any country in the world, making available the natural resources of the Dominion.

Nearly 6,000 locomotives and approximately a quarter of a million cars are in constant use on these railways; 40,000,000 passengers and 120,000,000 tons of freight being carried annually. Over 170,000 employees work on our railways, handling the trade and traffic of this young nation, and receive a quarter of a billion dollars in wages per annum.

The Northern Electric Company is gratified that it has been able to supply a share of the electrical equipment which is part and parcel of Canada's great railways.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN HEAVY

Bumper Crop Filling Up Eastern and Western Elevators

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 4.—Grain storage at the Port of Vancouver rose to approximately one-third of its elevator capacity, 3,267,549 bushels on Friday, and Canadian Pacific reports from Calgary give the movement out of there for the coast as 177 cars with 782 cars now under load. A total of 840 cars in transit west of field over the Canadian Pacific for Vancouver.

The rush East from Winnipeg shows no signs of dropping. Altogether 1,259 cars moved yesterday to the East with 2,152 East loads on hand. Deliveries to the head of the Lakes were 1,373 cars, with 1,490 unloaded. Storage now in all elevators at Port William and Port Arthur is 24,290,000 bushels, the top figure in storage to date 1,848,000 bushels being shipped by boat yesterday.

Marketings on Canadian Pacific lines are down a bit, farmers having weighed in 4,124,638 bushels. Loadings, however, are up, 2,166 cars being the movement Monday.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Oct. 4.—Believed to be the first consignment of Northwest apples ever sent to Capetown, South Africa, six carloads of fruit from Wenatchee have been booked for Montreal where it will be lifted for shipment to Capetown, it was announced yesterday by R. J. Griffiths, North Pacific Coast manager of the International Mercantile Marine. In 1926 the company sent 20,000 boxes of apples to Alexandria, Egypt, being pioneers in that field.

H.M.S. Sata, a Japanese naval tanker, is reported due here Friday to take on coal before proceeding to San Pedro to load fuel oil for use in the Japanese navy. The Sata is the first Japanese naval tanker to arrive here this season, four were routed to Seattle last year.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—Five thousand white fox skins valued at $200,000, in addition to silver fox, ermine and muskrat pelts, walrus ivory and whalebone and oil, arrived here yesterday on the small Alaska trade ship, Patterson. The vessel put into port after a five months' voyage to the most distant settlements along the Arctic Coast of Alaska. The cargo represented the season's catch of Eskimo natives. In exchange for the furs the Patterson carried hundreds of tons of food supplies, brightly colored cloth, and small trinkets.

With a large number of delegates from America to the recent Eucharistic conference held in Australia, the Matsen liner, Ventura, is scheduled to arrive here to-day. Radio advices received from the vessel stated that she is coming into port with every berth occupied.

GRAIN MOVEMENT MAKES HISTORY FOR DOMINION

Regina, Oct. 4.—Modern machinery and fine weather have resulted in a grain crop this season that is greater at the present time than at probably any other period in the history of the West, elevator and railway officials here declared yesterday.

Reports are reaching here that farmers are dumping their grain on the ground because elevators are plugged and the railways cannot carry away the grain fast enough.

While admitting that the grain movement was greater up to the present time than at probably any other period in the history of the country, railway officials stated that empty cars were being brought back from the head of the Lakes as fast as possible.

Loads Fishing Bait

The fishing vessel Mariner from Seattle loaded herring bait at the Ogden Point piers here this week before proceeding to the deep sea fishing grounds.

B.C. SALMON PACK HEAVY THIS YEAR: 1,414,259 CASES

Salmon packed to date in British Columbia this season totals 1,414,259 cases, according to a bulletin issued by the Federal Department of Fisheries.

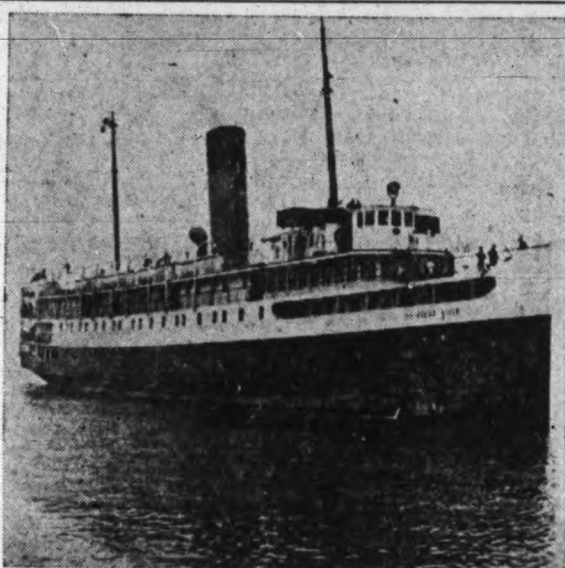

The pack of the corresponding period in the previous four years was as follows: 1927, 861,334 cases; 1926, 1,597,908 cases; 1925, 1,371,156 cases; 1924, 1,373,636 cases.

The exceptionally high pack this year is made up chiefly of pinks and chums, the run of sockeye being relatively small.

Salvors Attempt To Save Wrecked Peace River Boat

A crew of salvors under Bert Frankfort, superintendent of the Vancouver Drydock and Salvage Company, is now on the Peace River endeavoring to refloat the river steamer D. A. Thomas, which sank a short time ago, sixty miles below Peace River crossing.

The work is difficult, especially at this season of the year, when falling waters make it almost impossible to navigate the shallow channels. The Vancouver crew took a carload of salvage equipment north with them. It is believed the crew is by this time at work on the steamer, but as the wreck is a long way from means of communication, it is hard to get news through to the coast.

Blue Funnel Liner Expected Here On Tuesday Afternoon

With 1,550 tons of general cargo, including a shipment of raw silk valued at approximately $2,500,000, the Blue Funnel liner Tyndareus is expected at the Rithet piers on Tuesday afternoon from China and Japan. Her passenger list totals 166. About 100 tons of cargo will also be discharged here before the ship leaves for Vancouver.

Outbound on the same day the Ixion of the same line will sail from Vancouver with 2,000 tons of cargo and 150 passengers. It is not yet known whether or not the vessel will call here on her way to sea.

Under command of Captain William Martin, the Union Line steamer Makura sailed from here to-day for Australia and New Zealand with 237 passengers and a capacity cargo. The passenger list was one of the largest taken from this port this year by any of the company's steamers.

DOMINION CASE ON WATER POWER

Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., Continues Presentation Before Supreme Court

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—The Dominion continued presentation of its argument before the Supreme Court of Canada this morning on the controversy between Federal and provincial authorities as to their respective authority over navigation and waterpower.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., took up his contentions that the Dominion Parliament was vested with authority to declare the existence of a public right of navigation over streams navigable in fact.

The Dominion Parliament, Mr. Rowell proceeded, was conferred with general legislative power and control over matters of national interest affecting navigation and shipping trade and commerce. "The Dominion Parliament," he contended, "may exercise this power and affect property and civil rights in a proper so far as is necessary to give full effect to the Dominion's general legislative powers over navigation and shipping, trade and commerce."

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC TO OPEN OCTOBER 12

Langford, Oct. 4.—On Friday afternoon, October 12, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., the first pre-school clinic will be held at the Women's Institute Hall on Dunford Road. Through the co-operation of the Saanich Council, Dr. David Berman will conduct the clinic, assisted by Miss A. G. Kelly of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service. All mothers residing in the rural nursing area, Luxton and Happy Valley, Colwood, Albert Head and Langford, are cordially invited to bring their young children. The importance of this pre-school clinic cannot be over-estimated, as many minor defects can be detected before the child starts school and to valuable time then saved.

The Esquimalt Nursing Service wish to thank the Women's Institute members for lending their hall and making possible the start of this important work.

Vegetable Compound
Helps Run-Down
Condition

Simcoe, Ont.—"For several years I have had a run-down feeling, caused from overwork. One day a neighbor came in. I told her all about what was wrong with me and she told me she had suffered the same as I had. She said the only medicine she tried was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she advised it to me. I sent to the drug store and got a bottle and now I am on the fourth one. Where before I was dizzy, tired and 'all in' in every way, now I can eat and enjoy my meals, am gaining in flesh and able to do more work. You may be sure that I will tell others who are suffering like I was."—Mrs. GILBERT BELL, Box 103, R. R. No. 1, Simcoe, Ontario.

WHEN THE "WINDMILL" AIRSHIP REACHED PARIS—Here is an interesting close-up of the famous Cierva autogiro, the "windmill" flying machine that crashed soon after it had completed a London-Paris flight to win the acclaim of aeronautical science. It is shown at Le Bourget Field, near Paris, just after Juan de la Cierva (front seat) and his passenger landed. Above the ordinary fuselage is the horizontal windmill that, by revolving, keeps the machine in the air. It was because it didn't revolve fast enough that the autogiro crashed in a later landing.

WILLIAMS WILL ATTEND FROLIC

Sprint Champ, Here Next
Wednesday, Will Be at

Burned valves - engine strain - power loss all from hard, flinty carbon

A word about the newer models
Today's high-compression motors, with as little as 1/32 inch "clearance" between piston and cylinder head, have no room for hard carbon. A thin layer will cause trouble. Shell Motor Oil, forming less carbon, soft carbon, is almost essential to proper performance in such cars

CARBON that builds up in layers inside your motor—you know the trouble it causes. What you may not know is where it comes from.

Burned oil forms it. And in modern motors this tendency of otherwise good oils is really serious! Abrasive bits of carbon break off, grind endlessly through the motor. "Chips" hold valves open, burn the stems, waste power; red hot "nobs" cause knocking.

So oils are no longer judged solely on lubricating quality. You must also know how much and what kind of carbon they form.

Let us tell you of one particular oil.

Less carbon—soft carbon
Shell Motor Oil forms only 1/3 to 1/5 the carbon of even the costliest oils! The little it forms is soft, soot-like; it blows away.

Unique low-pressure stills refine Shell Motor Oil carefully. All its sturdy body is retained. In striking contrast old style stills "scorch" and weaken oils in the heat of refining.

Not only has Shell Motor Oil overcome carbon. The new process produces a finer lubricant with astounding heat resistance.

Truly Shell Motor Oil can "add thousands of miles to the life of your car!" It will, if you use it. Start now—even with the next extra quart!

Carbon deposited by ordinary oil is hard, flinty; it will tear paper; it will scratch brass—wear away steel. And there's from 3 to 5 times as much carbon in even the highest priced oils

The little carbon that Shell Motor Oil forms is soft, soot-like. Most of it blows away through the exhaust

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that explodes cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by "thinning" with a "wet" gas

ROAD CONDITIONS CONSIDERED GOOD

Automobile Club Committee
Completes Tour of Island
System

Island road conditions for this time of the year were considered good by the committee of the Automobile Club which yesterday completed a 450-mile tour of inspection. Improvements in many sections are under way, the committee discovered, while recommendations will be made for betterment in other places.

The committee was composed of W. J. Clubb, vice-president of the Victoria Branch of the club; R. B. Webb, secretary, and Dr. W. G. Moore, secretary of the Nanaimo branch. A report will be made by this group to the provincial executive of the club, with suggestions regarding improvements, including recommendations for the continuance of widening operations on the Malahat and improvement of the Shawanigan Lake road.

The Parkville-Alberni road was considered in need of repair owing to the heavy traffic now developing. Some 400 work in the mountain section in the way of relocation was noted. Comox district roads are in fine condition, the committee stated.

A large delegation of property owners met the party in the Cedar district, south of Nanaimo, requesting support in an appeal to the Government for oiling of the highway in that section.

Charges Democrats With Hypocrisy

Theodore Roosevelt, in Stinging Speech, Opens Speaking Tour in Tennessee

Lawrenceburg, Tenn., Oct. 4.—Prophesying that a "clean thinking people" will punish the "bare-faced hypocrisy" of the Democrats by the greatest beating the land has ever known, Theodore Roosevelt opened a brief speaking tour in Tennessee on behalf of Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee. He termed as "un-American" the issue of religious intolerance, "being fomented by the Democratic candidate."

Decrying the record of "corruption of the past eight years," both within and without or partly," he hailed Herbert

Hoover as the man "to deal with it." The Houston Democratic platform, he said, "merits a place among comic supplements rather than among state papers."

For Rainy October Days

Fashionable Raincoats, Rain Hats and Overshoes

The modern spirit of optimism expresses itself ever in such matters as the choice of raincoats, hats and shoes.
No longer any need to go into sombre black when it rains. The new way is to refuse to be depressed with the elements and to fare forth in colors borrowed from the rainbow rather than from the clouds.

Colored Oilskin Raincoats at $6.50
Serviceable and Smart Raincoats in strong oiled cloth with leather strapped collar and roomy patch pockets. Choose from red, blue, yellow and green; sizes 16 to 40. Price $6.50

NEWS IN BRIEF

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, will hold their usual weekly luncheon meeting at 12.10 p.m. tomorrow.

The Victoria College scholarship distribution ceremony, which took place in the Victoria High School auditorium on Friday, October 12, at 8.30 o'clock.

An interesting Rally of the Sunday School Union will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. All members and others interested in daily Bible reading are invited to be present.

The Real Estate Board will hold a meeting at Spencer's dining-room tomorrow at 12.30 p.m. The meeting is being held especially for the discussion of rental, arrears, mortgages and their relation to the value of real estate. A very interesting meeting is anticipated.

David Fyvie, member of the well-known firm of Fyvie Brothers, has severed his connection with the firm, to enter the life insurance business. He has joined the Confederation Life Association as a general agent, and will in future be found at the association offices in the Sayward Building.

Members of Victoria Women's Institute will hold the usual monthly social meeting tomorrow at 2.30 p.m. The hostesses, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Adam and Miss Clough, hope all members, with their friends, will attend. An invitation is also extended to any visiting Women's Institute members. A good programme has been prepared.

September donations to the Aged Men's Home are gratefully acknowledged by the inmates. A wish to thank the following for kindnesses received during the month: Mrs. Thurston, Miss Gray, Col. Phillips, Jones Bookstore, B. M. Angus, Duncan MacLaren and two anonymous donors, for the gift of pears and reading material.

Island residents intending to exhibit displays at the Vancouver Winter Fair are notified that the exhibition will be held earlier than usual this year, commencing on November 28, and continuing for four days. The B.C. Potato Show and a special apple show will also be held in conjunction with the Winter Fair, it is stated.

The monthly meeting of the Native Sons of Canada will be held this evening in their hall on View Street at 8 o'clock. At 8.30 o'clock the meeting will be open to any friends of the members who wish to attend. The report of the delegates who attended the convention held last month at Regina, will be read. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Court Canada Exelior No. 1 held its monthly meeting on Friday last when the officers were elected. At the conclusion of the business the large attendance of members and friends enjoyed an excellent concert the programme included: James Mosson, cornet solo; Walter Colvin, piano; Grace Townsend, song; Mildred Wright, piano; Winnie Bridge, duet; Dorothy Lebr and Hilda Pitton, dialogue; Sister Gilchrist, piano.

In the nine months ending Saturday last, the island poultrymen assembled for shipment 22,776 cases, as compared with 7,903 in 1927, and 376 cases in 1926. More than 300 carloads of eggs have left British Columbia this year. The island contributing thirty carloads and parts of a number of other cars, probably about one-seventh of the total. The drive made in Canada for people to use more eggs has borne results. In 1920 the average consumption per capita was 16.8-10 dozens, and in 1926 had grown to 28.1-10 dozens per capita.

The Ward Four Sanitary Ratepayers' Association meeting last night at Macleod Hall was informed by Council William Stubbs that improvements to Lake Road now in progress are being paid for by a grant of $1,000 from the general revenue fund of the municipality, and the return to Lake Hill taxpayers a surplus of $1,700 in the local improvement tax payments of the district. Completion of the work in hand will require a further $1,000, which Council Stubbs expected would be contributed by the council. Only $26 had been expended on Lake Road from ward funds, he stated.

A very enjoyable Thanksgiving social was held on Monday night in the school room of the Esquimalt United Church. A short musical programme was given. Those assisting were: Miss E. Ede, vocal solos; Mr. H. Morgan, humorous songs and recitations; Mr. B. Anderson, violin solos; Misses K. and R. Wallace, piano duet; Miss R. Wallace, piano solo; Miss Ede and Mr. L. Merton, vocal duet; C.G.I.T. chorus, Miss P. Bennett and Mr. P. Morgan, were the accompanists. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Ward successfully sold by auction the fruit and vegetables which decorated the church for the harvest festival. Refreshments were served by the ladies' aid.

The Connaught Seamen's Institute is very grateful to all those who have sent cast-off clothing for distressed sailors who come to port with shabby clothes damaged. The superintendent would be pleased to receive further donations to replenish her store for the winter. The Institute also is grateful for the gifts of fruit, vegetables, flowers and preserves donated by the children of the James Bay Sunday School to the harvest festival service in aid of deep sea sailors held at the Institute last Sunday morning. Rev. E. W. P. Carver, conducted the children's service, assisted by Capt. Walter Brown, superintendent of the James Bay Sunday School; and his staff of teachers. The Sunday School Union will hold a rally followed by tea at 5 o'clock, Friday in the Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street.

MRS. F. W. GRANT DIED HERE TO-DAY

Wife of Times Employee Came Here Twenty-two Years Ago

After an illness from heart trouble lasting two years, the death occurred at 4.30 o'clock this morning, at the family residence, 1016 Princess Avenue, of Mrs. Annie Chapman Grant, wife of Fred W. Grant, of the Times composing staff.

Born in Holland Landing, Ontario, 61 years ago, a member of one of the pioneer families of Central Ontario, Mrs. Grant came to this city in 1906, twenty-two years ago, to join her husband, who was then a compositor with the Victoria Times. Besides her husband, a niece, Mrs. William Blake, 849 Princess Avenue; a nephew, Hudson B. Smith, Powell Street, and a brother, J. B. Chapman, 76 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, and many other relatives in Ontario.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence, 1016 Princess Avenue, where services will be conducted at 4 p.m. by Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, after which the remains will be forwarded to Vancouver for cremation. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

HAD LIVED HERE FORTY-TWO YEARS

Funeral of Joshua Levy to Be Held To-morrow

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2.30 at the Sands Funeral Chapel over the remains of the late Joshua Levy, a well-known resident of Victoria for the last forty-two years, who passed away at his residence, 1022 Balmoral Road, yesterday. Mr. Levy was born in London, England, in 1886, and came to this city in 1926. He first worked for some time in the old Club Bank of Montreal, then established a cigar-making factory which he operated until his retirement from active business in 1923.

Mr. Levy is survived by his widow, Mary Ann Levy, three sons, all of this city, Joseph, William and Stanley; three grandchildren, William, Amelia and Gordon Levy, and two sisters, of London, England. He was a member of the Sons of St. George.

Interment will be made in the Jewish Cemetery.

OBITUARY

Funeral service was held at the Thompson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, yesterday afternoon for Harry J. Russell, who died at St. Joseph's Hospital on September 26 after a lingering illness. Rev. F. A. Ramsey conducted the service and the remains were laid to rest at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Jackson, who passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital on Tuesday, will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Thompson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, at 3 o'clock. Interment will take place at Ross Bay Cemetery.

There passed away in this city yesterday afternoon Henry Russell, aged seventy-four years, a native of England. Mr. Russell was a retired business man of Montreal and had been in this city only a few days, visiting friends. He is survived by his widow, at present residing at 1625 Quadra Street. The remains are at the Thompson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, from where they will be forwarded on the midnight boat to Vancouver en route to Montreal, where funeral services and interment will be made. Mrs. Russell will accompany the remains East.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Harriet Rebekah Murray took place this morning at the Sands Funeral Chapel at 8.50, proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral where Father C. E. Evans conducted services at 9 o'clock. The pallbearers were: Frank Sehl, George Brady, H. O'Leary, and M. Lawless. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of Charles Henry Hughes, who died on Monday last, was held yesterday afternoon from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Relatives and many friends attended the service which was conducted by Rev. A. Munroe. The hymn "Abide With Me" was sung. The pallbearers were: W. H. Higgins, H. H. Clarke and W. H. Kelsey. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

There passed away on Wednesday at St. Joseph's Hospital, Herbert Angus Burwash of Cedar Avenue, Saanich, Mr. Burwash was born sixty years ago in Quebec, and had resided here for three years, coming from Charnagay, Alberta. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Misses Margaret and Phyllis, at home, and a stepson, Norman Lambly of Parkland, Alberta; also three brothers, Thomas and Peter of Alberta, and John, in Ottawa, and one sister, Mrs. W. H. McArthur, in Oakland, Iowa. The remains are at McCall Brothers' Funeral Home. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

AIR POLICY IS STILL OPEN ONE

No Decision as to Resumption of Passenger Service or on Type of Plane

"We have made no decision yet as to what type of planes we will use and whether we will resume passenger service as to the resumption of the service," declared Ernest Eve, president of the B.C. Airways Limited, when questioned regarding the accuracy of a dispatch from Vancouver.

The message stated that the company had decided to fit all its aeroplanes with pontoons and that it had decided to resume service over the route which had been suspended since the crash of the Ford monoplane. Mr. Eve intimated that a meeting of the directors and shareholders would be held next week when the future policy of the company would be given into. Informal meetings have been held by the directors for the purpose of discussing types of planes but no decision has been reached.

NANAIMO FIRM APPEALS ORDER; JUDGMENT HELD

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Judgment was rendered today in the appeal on the application of the Nanaimo firm of McDonald in favor of Albert Edward Pianta and A. E. Pianta Limited of Nanaimo.

Mr. Justice McDonald allowed Pianta and his company to charge $2,000 against Scull in an accounting between the parties. This matter arose out of an action at the suit of Nazareno Castillo and Bernardino Castillo, who had been awarded judgment against the respondents.

MINOR DAMAGE DONE BY GALE

Wind Reaches Velocity of Sixty Miles an Hour in First Winter Storm

Motorists, Fences, Trees, Signs and Light Wires Chief Sufferers

Wind, which for a five-minute interval at 6 p.m. reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour, caused considerable minor damage in Victoria and district yesterday. Motorists, fences, trees, signs and light wires were the chief sufferers from the first severe gale since last Spring.

At Gonzales Observatory, according to Superintendent F. Napier Denison, the maximum velocity of the wind was forty-eight miles an hour, the period between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Shortly after 6 o'clock, in a last wild burst, it reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour, after which it died down to a mere whither with the coming of heavy rain. The blow lasted from 1 o'clock until about 6.30 o'clock.

MORE RAIN

Judging from the low barometer readings all over the coast, considerably more rain can be expected than has fallen during the last few days, Mr. Denison said.

At Prince Rupert yesterday the barometer fell to 29.00, one of the lowest readings on records for this time of the year. In Victoria the reading was 29.25, exceptionally low for this district. Many residents were quite anxious about the low glass, and communicated with observatory to confirm their readings.

At the Dallas Road seawall wind created a peculiar sight when it aided in lifting huge waves over the embankment, causing passing automobiles. Nearly thirty cars were stalled on the stretch near the cemetery when waves swept across the road and put their ignition out of order.

MINOR DAMAGE

Electric wires leading to a residence at 160 Port Street were carried away when a large tree fell across them. Boulevard trees were reported down on Rockland Avenue near Cook Street. On Cook Street, near Hampton Street, a large tree was blown down, and on Bellevue Street, near Douglas, on Fairfield Road and on Gladstone Avenue.

A large signboard on the corner of Vancouver and Port Streets was blown over into the sidewalk, obstructing pedestrians. An electric signboard was blown down on the corner of Wellington and Douglas. The signboard was carried heavily from the force of the gale.

LIGHT POLE DOWN

At the corner of North Park and Chambers Streets a city light pole toppled during a heavy gust, taking with it wires which were attached to live wires in various parts of the city were down, but no injuries were reported.

Orchards both in the city and districts suffered somewhat heavily from the force of the gale. The lack of damage to chimneys and residences was pointed out by Mr. Denison, who stated that at Combermere, a large chimney was blown down to present-day buildings. In the old days a similar storm usually resulted in considerable damage to residential structures.

LEUNG CHONG TRIAL OPENS

Alleged Slayer of Vancouver Police Constable Faces Second Hearing

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Earl Robinson, J.P., one of the chief witnesses at the trial of Leung Chong on the charge of murdering Constable Ernest Sargent, is not a witness at the second trial which began in the Assize Court today before Mr. Justice Murphy. Robinson was called to the Witness stand by A. M. Johnson, K.C., crown counsel, but was asked no questions. "I tender this witness for cross-examination," said Mr. Johnson, complying with the requirement that all material witnesses must be produced. The new trial was ordered by the court of appeal because material given by Robinson and other witnesses who attended at Sargent's bedside shortly before he died, was held by that court to be inadmissible. The trial is expected to conclude Friday.

Hog Fattening Farm in Surrey

New Westminster, Oct. 4.—For the purpose of establishing a large swine and cattle fattening establishment, the Strawberry Hill Livestock Association has been organized. The association is headed by the R. P. McLennan estate, Hunt Road, Strawberry Hill, Surrey, for approximately $12,000. It is stated that from $10,000 to $15,000 will be expended on buildings to house 1,000 hogs and a large number of cattle, also that the B.C.E.R. will build a spur line from the Chilliwack road line to the plant. Reid & Irwin acted for both parties.

ROTARY TOLD OF ARCHIVES AND LIBRARY

John Hosie Reviews Resources and Operation of Provincial Library

Rotary Ice Carnival to Be Held November 10 at Arena

The Provincial Library and Archives has attracted fame abroad, and is better appreciated by residents in other centres than by Victorians, John Hosie, Provincial Librarian, told the Rotary Club this afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

The library building is the most beautiful structure of the kind in North America, Mr. Hosie said, and he believed the exterior had not been given the study it deserved. Mr. Hosie called attention to the statues of great pioneers and explorers of British Columbia.

REMARKABLE COLLECTION

Mr. Hosie recalled that the Provincial Library had its inception under R. E. Gosnell. It now has 185,000 volumes, being the largest collection west of Toronto. The basis of the library is legislative law works of all parts of the British Empire being a feature. Of remarkable interest is a complete set of the laws of England since 1066, the only collection of the type in America.

Mr. Hosie stated that the library staff is continuously engaged upon compilation of legislative reference work, this being the only library in Canada undertaking this work, said Mr. Hosie.

STUDENTS AIDED

Provision of reference works for students is a feature, no student being refused any volume requested. Many books are specially obtained to fill such needs.

The work of the traveling libraries has developed until 30,000 books are in constant circulation, while the existence of the Provincial Library in Victoria has brought many home seekers to this city, declared the speaker.

Mr. Hosie told of the Provincial Archives, recalling that a commencement was made forty years ago by Mr. Oosnell and the late E. O. Schofield. "We have every right to be proud of this work," he said, telling of the valuable documents preserved. These include Queen Victoria's order to Governor Blanchard constituting the colony of Vancouver Island; Capt. Cook's log of his discovery voyages; private papers of pioneers now of priceless worth; about 25,000 old printed books and double as many pamphlets.

The first book published in British Columbia was a pamphlet of forty pages, but to-day it is worth $200 and the archives have three copies, commented Mr. Hosie. "The men who clear the bush and pioneer are making history, and a great deal of time has been devoted to collection, for the archives of photographs, diaries and items regarding the pioneers of the Province," Mr. Hosie stated.

MANY COPY SYSTEM

The system of classification in force at the Provincial Library has been copied in many places, stated the speaker. It is designed to make accessible to students all the information collected.

SIR GEORGE SIMPSON

Mr. Hosie briefly reviewed the recent ceremonies at Fort St. James, to mark the unveiling of the memorial to Sir George Simpson. He recalled that the provincial archives had been the major source of information as to the achievements of the great explorer.

Mr. Hosie closed with a warm invitation to all to visit the Provincial Archives and Library.

ALL INVITED

President Ansonb drew attention to the Autumn Ball of the Victoria Press Club to-morrow evening at the Empress Hotel, under the patronage of Premier and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie. All Rotarians were invited to be present.

ICE CARNIVAL

P. B. Scourrah stated that the Rotary Ice Carnival will be held at the Arena on Saturday, November 10, with many famous performers. Among the headliners will be Shapovalov and Johnson, prominent artists at the carnival last year.

A ticket drive will be organized for Thursday, October 18. Mr. Scourrah pointed out that the success of the sale was assured by last year's successful entertainment.

TOLMIE MAY GO TO WINTER FAIR

Exhibition Authorities Extend Invitation; B.C. to Have Big Display

Should Premier Tolmie be able to spare the time from his duties in Victoria, he is expected to represent British Columbia at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, to be held November 21 to 29 inclusive. Urgent requests for the attendance of the former Premier of British Columbia have been made by the executive of the Winter Fair, and only pressure of provincial business will prevent acceptance of the warm invitation, it is understood.

BIG DISPLAY PLANNED

Nearly seventeen hundred square feet of display space will be required to accommodate British Columbia's exhibit at the Winter Fair, according to Dr. David Wornock, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

Dr. Wornock this morning was in consultation with Clair Lemax of Cloverdale, who will be in charge of the B.C. display, and arranged many details covering inclusion of products of Vancouver Island.

Mr. Lemax was in charge of the remarkable display staged by this Province last year, and stated that the contributions from Vancouver Island held their own with the finest products of the mainland in the competition.

Mr. Lemax stressed the quality of the flower bulbs contributed by Island growers, declaring Eastern flower lovers had followed up introductions to growers with large orders at extremely high prices.

FEAR HELD FOR RIVER STEAMER

Hudson's Bay Vessel on Mackenzie is Several Days Overdue

Edmonton, Oct. 4.—Somewhere down the long reaches of the Mackenzie River, anywhere between the San Saul Rapids, sixty miles south of Good Hope, and her terminus at Fort Smith, on the Slave River, this side of Great Slave Lake, the Hudson's Bay Company Arctic steamer Distributor is held up from some cause or other at present unknown to the local officials.

Included in the passenger list is the recently-appointed head of the Mackenzie diocese for the Church of England, Bishop Woddes, who is accompanied by Archdeacon Fleming.

JOBLESS WORRY MANCHESTER

City Will Tell Premier Government Aid is Necessary

Manchester, Oct. 4. (Canadian Press Cable)—Government assistance will be necessary before it is possible to do anything more for the unemployed, the city of Manchester Corporation has decided to inform Premier Baldwin, in reply to the latter's personal appeal to 150,000 employers to provide work for unemployed miners.

The corporation asserts that the Ministry of Labor has repeatedly balked the corporation in its efforts to find work for unemployed by turning down schemes and refusing to make grants.

Some members of the corporation declare the Government is honestly trying to do something, but think that the scheme of sending miners to the Western Canada harvest fields was a mistake. If grants were made, there was enough work in many English cities for large numbers of men.

FIRE DAMAGES QUEBEC SCHOOL

Few of 200 Students in Building at Time Quickly Escape

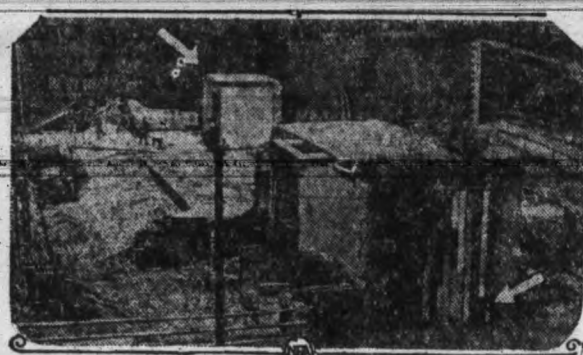

Quebec, Oct. 4.—The three upper stories of the St. Raymond College in Port Neuf County, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The damage was estimated at about $30,000.

Fireman Alphonse Lachance attempted to jump from a fire wagon to the automobile of the chief and was so badly injured that he is not expected to recover.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The college, which housed 200 pupils, was under the supervision of the Christian Brothers.

The majority of the students were out of the building when the fire broke out, while the remainder quickly escaped.

Import duties in Cuba favor the importation of American goods, which receive a 40 per cent reduction in the ad valorem rates.

PADLOCK MIGHTIER THAN HAMMER—Because of padlocks for liquor violations, placed on the grill room and room 8 of the old Lincoln Hotel at Milwaukee, builders of the new, twenty-six-story tower of the Milwaukee Gas Company on the hotel's site must leave the two rooms intact until the court order expires. The decree doesn't expire until next Summer, so the new tower will be built up around the rooms, which will be torn out later. The arrow in the foreground points to the grill room; the cube left standing in the rear is room 8.

The B.C. Poultry Industry and the Canadian Egg and Poultry Pool

By GEORGE SWAN

Our present Canadian production is only about eighty-five per cent of our national requirements, the deficiency having to be made up by importations, chiefly from the United States and the Orient.

The industrial centres of Ontario and Quebec furnish us with our greatest markets, these centres not only absorbing their own provincial outputs but also the surpluses from the other producing areas of Canada as well.

Apart from a small export surplus from Prince Edward Island the local supply for the eastern markets comes from the west of the Great Lakes, where surplus production is more or less evenly divided among the four western provinces.

Recent years have witnessed a marked development of the industry in all these western provinces.

On the prairies, where the industry occurs largely as a side line and is based on the farm flock, this development has been very largely due to the work of the Producers' Provincial Pool organizations, in introducing improved methods of production, and promoting the quality of the commodity, on one hand, and in securing the producer better returns, through improved methods of marketing on the other.

In British Columbia, where such organizations have not yet been established, the industry has developed along lines similar to those in the Pacific States to the south, where the large flock and modern equipment is the order and the industry is a specialized main line.

When production with these American neighbors of ours passed the point of local requirements, they formed marketing associations, the purpose of which was to sell their surpluses in the eastern states. At first all these surpluses went on to this eastern market separately. As a result, except in periods of shortage, they competed against one another with disastrous results to prices.

Realizing that they were dumping collectively instead of marketing co-operatively as they intended, they proceeded to put their organizations on a commodity, instead of a district basis, by forming one central selling agency, the Pacific Egg Producers of New York, whose membership was composed of the five Pacific Coast Poultry Producers' Co-operatives.

The purpose of this organization was to effect stabilization of prices through orderly marketing, and a better distribution of surplus eggs. In this they were signally successful.

Our position in Western Canada today, in relation to our eastern market, is practically the same as that of the Western American producers before they put their organization on a commodity basis.

As a result of the lack of central control, the sales departments of our prairie egg and poultry-pools found themselves competing with each other on their common market.

This arrangement immediately created that bugbear of all producer organizations, a buyers' market.

To remedy this a central selling agency, the Canadian Co-operative Poultry Marketing Association was formed, composed of the Manitoba and Saskatchewan pools.

Owing to certain features of the Alberta organization being out of line with the plan of the central organization, the Alberta pool was not in a position to come immediately into it.

Steps were taken, however, to bring this organization in line with the central body, and when this has been done, there is no doubt but that the Alberta pool will take its place in the Canadian organization.

During last Winter, owing to the unorganized condition of our British Columbia industry, our heavy overproduction of eggs fell into the hands of dealers whose concern in marketing matters has to do with "spread" and not "price."

As a consequence we experienced such a carnival of indiscriminate dumping as to totally devastate any margin of profit that the producers might otherwise have secured from a stabilized market.

While the effect of this marketing debacle was felt far beyond our borders, the fact of our disorganized condition in British Columbia left us open to a greater degree of price punishment than that suffered by our more fortunately organized fellow producers elsewhere, and it is to be noted that while the prairie pools were able to check the land-slide at a point where they were able to net their producer members 42, 38 and 35 cents, our prices in British Columbia slumped to 23 cents for extras.

We have in our economic system a speculative element whose operations are based on price fluctuations brought about by the uncontrolled elements of supply and demand, such as was witnessed on our egg market last Winter.

Situated as they are, this element is often able to accentuate these fluctuations to their own advantage. In the very nature of things, they are the sworn enemies of all price stabilization undertakings, and as such their essential interest in the producer is to keep him out of effective producer-controlled marketing organizations.

So long as producers confine themselves to producing and dumping, this interest lies dormant. At the first sign, however, of any organization activity among the producers this interest begins to manifest itself, usually in the form of a patronizing desire to assist the said producer in the formation of his organizations.

The underlying motive of all this is always the same—to keep the producer dumping.

It does not matter to this element whether the producer carries on his dumping individually or collectively, just so long as he dumps. When the producer becomes dissatisfied with individual dumping, his business is, if possible to herd him into organizations that will dump collectively. Thus insures them their speculative profits and is also calculated to impress upon the producer the futility of all attempts at farm organization.

Sapiro tells us that before the great "Sunkist" co-operative was put on to a commodity basis that the speculators had that industry organized into forty local orange producers' associations, all dumping against each other. At the present time our local poultrymen are receiving the same kind of patronizing attention from what they are asked to believe are entirely disinterested sources.

The burden of the advice they are receiving is to keep shy of the seats provided for them in the councils of the all-producer Canadian Egg and Poultry Pool and to organize locally. Inconvenient facts and figures are being suppressed, and every argument possible put forward against centralized producer control. But the science of co-operative marketing has been developed to a point where the factors fundamental to its success may be clearly defined. The first of these principles is organization of a commodity wide basis, and the second is the centralized control of the movement of the commodity through the channels of trade to its ultimate market.

Inside, and as an integral part of the Canadian Egg and Poultry Pool, which is based on these fundamental principles, the British Columbia poultry industry may look forward in common with their fellow producers in the neighboring provinces to a condition of price stabilization at a point that will insure them a steady and reasonable position on their operations. Outside, and therefore lacking the protection of these essential principles, it can hope for little more than the continuation of its past unsatisfactory marketing experiences.

EXPERIMENTS IN PAPER MULCH AT ISLAND FARM SHOW GREAT INCREASES IN YIELDS

This picture, taken at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Bagan Bay, shows the method of laying the paper mulch with a crop of melons on the vines. The investigations made at the Experimental Farm this year showed an increase of 350.8 per cent in the yield of treated melon plants. Two rows of melons were planted, one without mulch and the other with a paper to each plant. The former row yielded 26 melons weighing 81 1/2 pounds, while the latter brought forth 121 melons with a total weight of 142 pounds. The paper, manufactured by the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company, was cut in squares and anchored to the ground. A hole was punched in each and the seed buried in the hole. As the plant grew the melon rested on the mulch, which is made of heavy sulphite paper, first saturated in asphalt and then coated with the same material. The paper absorbs the sun's heat and keeps the plants from 2 to 10 degrees warmer. It also prevents the soil from absorbing the moisture, which results in an increase in the size of the fruit.

The mulch choked out weed growth about the plant and matured the melon a week or two earlier than those growing under ordinary conditions. The mulch treatment has been used in the United States in the growing of various vegetables with highly successful results. A report published by the United States Department of Agriculture in 1927 showed that the yield of potatoes increased 377 per cent, celery 39, beets 122, carrots 50, and cucumbers 168.

STOCK MARKETS — FINANCIAL NEWS — GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited
Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—Wheat—The local wheat market was decidedly strong again today, and on the extreme bulge the October future was 2 1/2¢ above the close last night, while December was 1 1/2¢ higher. Opening prices were 1/4 to 1 1/2¢ higher, with mills the best buyers, but practically all this bulge was lost after the first fifteen minutes.

The market, however, gradually firmed up, making new highs on the movement with exporters buying, while there were good buying orders coming in from the East and South, which was credited to short covering. Offerings were again surprisingly small, considering the heavy movement of wheat from the country and the accumulation of supplies at terminal points. This factor was the chief factor of the market, and indicates a holding tendency on part of the farmers.

Mills report a excellent demand for flour from the Orient, and it is said that some of the larger concerns have sufficient orders booked to keep them grinding steadily for the next two months at least.

The two big factories located in Winnipeg are working twenty-four hours each day on orders from mills. Europe is taking moderate quantities of Canadian wheat daily, but the business is not large and they are not slow to follow the bulges, knowing that substantial supplies are available.

In the cash market there was a good demand from exporters and shippers for most grades above No. 6, and spreads on these were unchanged to 1/2¢ better. Nos. 2 and 4 being most wanted. The market is showing a strong undertone, and we advise caution in following the bulges, but would confine purchases to the setbacks. The Northwest grain dealers estimate of the crop will be published any day now, and there is a feeling that the figures will be somewhat lower than those of the Government.

VANCOUVER MINING MARKET

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Thursday's trading during the forenoon on the Vancouver Stock Exchange again demonstrated that the fall market, long forecast by the brokers, has definitely arrived. Buying and selling were general all over the board, with Snowflake, opening at 98, selling down to 87, and recovering to 90, being an outstanding favorite. Morton Woolley, around 7 1/2, came in for a lot of attention, also Mohawk, at 8 1/2, and 8 1/4, and Cork Province at 29 and 30.

Kootenay King, selling between 40 and 44, interested traders, and Grandview claimed the attention of crowds in board rooms, when it opened at 60, rose quickly to 63 and 64, and sold chiefly at 63.

Pend Oreille was neglected at first, but a few shares came out in trades between 813 and 813.20. Little was offered at those figures.

Ruth Hope rose from a 60 opening to 63. Big Missouri strengthened at 57, while Kootenay Florence held tenaciously to 18.

Topley was sold at 60, while Cotton Belt brought 80. Oils were quiet, A.P. Consolidated bringing 40 to 42, and Dalhousie 81.60.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

(By Solloway Mills-R. F. Castle)

Toronto, Oct. 4.—Trading generally lacked any notable features to-day, as far as the bullish side of the market is concerned. The majority of the issues across the board showed decided downward tendencies on the Standard & Mining Exchange.

Abana and Newbec were not traded in as great goods as expected on Tuesday and Wednesday. Abana was off 8, while Newbec at 63 to 63 1/2 was 5 points easier.

Now that all the "ifs" and "ands" of the Amulet report have been thoroughly digested and muller over by market speculators, this stock has steadied to around $3.00. At 3.03 to 3.05, Amulet was off 5.

Area at 22 to 23 showed little activity until later in the session. Capital Rouny at 19 to 19 1/2, was up 2 points, under fairly heavy trading, as also was Jackson Manion at 23 1/2 for a 4 point gain.

Hollinger showed a nice rally and sold up as high as 7.70, closing at 7.50-7.70. Granada at 27 1/2 to 28, Sheritt-Gordon at 6.25-6.30, Wright-Hartrick at 2.75-2.80 were all unchanged. Malartic at 151-152 was one of the biggest losers of the day, suffering a 9-point loss. Heavy selling came in under the circumstances was well absorbed on a declining scale.

At 33.70 to 33.90 Mond Nickel moved up in sympathy with its brother, International, showing a gain of 1.65. However at 85 offered was down 2.

Closing at 182-5 Mandy gives no indication of rallying to above the 82 mark.

San Antonio at 29, offered continues to slide. Teck Hughes on a 26-point reaction, sold moderately heavily closing at 8.65-70.

Noranda again eased off during the day's trading and at 45.50-65 was 60 points weaker.

Pend Oreille at 12.75 to 13.00 was off 15, while Kirkland Lake at 126-30 was off 9.

The following is a copy of a wire received by Branson, Brown & Company Limited from William Dann, manager of the United Empire Mining Company of Stewart, B.C.

Report telegram from O. B. Bush, Stewart, says struck ore in No. 2 crosscut tunnel on No. 2 Empire vein. Vein well mineralized. I presume they have not had time to assay yet.

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Following the meeting of the Enterprise Consolidated, when the name of the company was changed to Yankee Girl Consolidated. Directors of the company urged shareholders to have their holdings registered. One share of Yankee Girl being issued for each two and one-half shares of Enterprise Consolidated. The par value of the new stock is 50 cents, as compared with 20 cents for Enterprise. There is no change in capitalization, which is $2,400,000. Engineers on the property are reported as declaring that values shown warrant construction of an adequate mining and milling facilities.

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—According to J. B. Williams, president of Snowflake Mining Co. Limited, four assays from the recent strike showed values of $88.94, $4.92, $46.84, and $70.93. He states that there is thirty-six feet between the footwall and the hanging wall, with sixteen feet of high grade milling ore. A concentrator and other

INDIA BUYING WHEAT OUTSIDE

Chicago, Oct. 4.—That India is actively buying Canadian, Australian and Argentine wheat for nearby and early 1929 shipment, and the certainty that Russia will not be an exporter this year, has changed the supply and demand situation considerably during the past few weeks.

The Journal of Commerce says: James R. Riordan, back from a long stay in Colorado, says cattle feeders in Colorado will have to send their droves into Nebraska for feeding, owing to the failure of the Colorado hay crop. He predicts Nebraska will have a shortage of more than 100,000,000 bushels in its corn crop as compared with last year.

CUSTOMS MINISTER SCORES POOLEY'S LIQUOR STATEMENT

The statement follows: "My attention is drawn to a statement in the Montreal Gazette and the Toronto Mail and Empire, said to be issued by the Attorney-General of British Columbia, the Hon. R. H. Pooley. On the statement attributed to Mr. Pooley, the writer of the article bases the assertion that the Department of National Revenue is deliberately violating the Federal law in order to advance the business of the liquor interests. I can not believe that the attorney-general made so serious a charge, and in the meantime would confine myself to the statements definitely attributed to him at the inter-provincial conference held last year. I expressed the willingness of this Department to co-operate with the provinces with regard to the enforcement of the liquor laws. If the Attorney-General of British Columbia had any fault to find with the attitude of this Department and if he earnestly desires our co-operation it would seem to me to be fair that he should address himself first to this department, rather than issue statements to the press.

SINCERE OFFER

That our offer of co-operation was sincere is proved by the fact that immediate steps were taken to close all private bonded warehouses and they will disappear entirely within a short time—just as soon as they can dispose of the stocks on hand.

For this they have the sanction of the law. Further, at the last session of Parliament at the request of the British Columbia and other governments, we passed an act prohibiting the importation of liquor into Canada by private persons with the exception of distillers who might bring under government supervision certain quantities for blending purposes only or by others for non-beverage purposes. The enforcement of that law lies with the provinces as does also the enforcement of the Temperance Act.

PROVINCES ASKED

"When I took office I adopted the practice of acquainting the Provincial Governments of all applications for licenses for new breweries and distilleries in the respective provinces. Not in a single instance has a license been granted where any of the provinces expressed a desire that it be not done.

Moreover, so far as British Columbia is concerned, the Hon. Mr. Pooley has not to this day communicated to this department that he does not desire a further issuance of licenses to brewers or distillers in his Province. May I just briefly reply to certain definite statements said to have been made by Mr. Pooley?

ONE LETTER WRITTEN

"I, since the advent of the present Government to office in British Columbia only one letter has been written by the department of national revenue to Mr. Pooley with reference to licenses. In this case no reply has been received stating any objection. Mr. Pooley merely says under date September 24, 1928, that he will take the question up with his government at as early a date as possible.

"The department of national revenue has received no intimation whatever of the policy of the British Columbia Government respecting their intention to disapprove of application of distillers to import liquor for blending purposes.

FREE GOODS

"In regard to the shipment of a carload of whisky from Gooderham & Worts to Spokane via Vancouver, it should be understood that this was a shipment of duty paid liquor delivered from the distillery in the usual manner for export to Spokane and differs in no way from the entirely legal procedure followed by exports in other parts of Canada—this liquor being duty or excise paid become free goods and may be exported as such.

The reference made by Mr. Pooley to licensed exporters probably means the Scottish-Canadian Exporters which are licensed to export by the provincial governments and not by the Department of National Revenue.

"Contrary to the statement said to be made by Mr. Pooley, the excise division of this department has made no inquiry whatever to ascertain whether the Attorney-General of British Columbia would consent to storage of this liquor in a class-three bonded warehouse nor has there been any correspondence on the subject. In fact the statement is obviously absurd for the simple reason that this liquor was duty paid and the storage in bond is therefore out of the question.

"Application was received from the proprietor of one bonded warehouse to allow transfer of warehoused liquor from their bonded warehouse in Vancouver to another bonded warehouse under the same proprietorship to another point in British Columbia nearer the border. Contrary to the statement of Mr. Pooley, this application was refused, it being quite evident that the transfer was asked merely to facilitate the smuggling of such liquors into the United States after they had been ex-warehoused and the duty paid thereon."

R. J. Robertson Has Retired as Manager Of Canada Permanent

R. J. Robertson has announced his retirement from the management of the Victoria office of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation and the Canada Permanent Trust Company, it being his intention to take up a new line of business activity. Mr. Robertson was for many years associated in various capacities and in later years as a director of the British Columbia Permanent Loan Corporation, the business of which company was acquired last year by the Canada Permanent.

G. W. Ramsay, who previously occupied the position of estate officer in the Canada Permanent Trust Company, has been appointed to the local management of the two companies. Mr. Ramsay's previous experience in Vancouver as well as in Victoria assures present and prospective customers of the Canada Permanent of efficient and capable service.

A Thrilling Story of Fate and the Famous Sweepstake

By E. C. BULEY

"Listen, Joan," Blake said emphatically. "We have talked of sharing expeditions together, and risks in unknown country. That is not to be done by anybody who sees disaster before it is surely known to have occurred. I have known men absent in the bush for months beyond their due date for return, but their friends refused to despair of them. Franklin is not even overdue at this moment. There may be news of him in London, while we are talking. If there is none, it proves nothing at all."

Joan laid her hand upon his. "I am better now," she said. "I don't doubt I'll not give way. John, you must not think me a weak coward."

"I never thought a girl could have so much grit," John confessed. "After such an exciting day, it would only be natural if you caved in. But I don't want to see you do it."

"Franklin, latest," John said.

John caught sight of the bill, and stopped the car. He bought the paper and turned to the stop press news. Nothing had been seen or heard of the aviators since the previous evening.

"Do you wish to talk about it, Joan?" Blake asked, seeing the dumb misery in her eyes. "Of course, it would be idle to pretend now that something has not gone wrong. There ought to be some news of them to-day."

"Yes," Joan said calmly enough. "We must talk about it, John. Like reasonable people. I couldn't bear any pretence now; it is good of you to face the facts squarely. What might have happened?"

"The first thing I would suggest is that they may have got off their course," John replied. "They are bold aviators, Joan; but nobody would call them experts. After all, these islands are a small mark to hit, if once they lost their bearings."

Joan nodded her understanding of that.

"Then they may have come down, owing to engine trouble," Blake continued. "In that case, their boats will carry them for a long time."

"But they sent wireless messages all yesterday," Joan objected. "Why is their wireless silent to-day? Is it not most likely of all that something has happened to them during the night?"

"Or perhaps to their wireless," John amended. "If you knew Franklin as I know him, you'd understand what a jack-of-all-trades the man is. He had the knack of putting the things he used out of order in no time; he smashed a perfectly good typewriter of mine, in some mysterious way."

"If I could only do something," Joan said, twisting her fingers in nervous misery.

"And you can," Blake said promptly. "It was what I was about to suggest. You are a rich woman, Joan; you can send out search parties, regardless of expense. The first thing we do in town, after we get the latest tidings, is to make arrangements for an instant start of several planes."

Joan brightened instantly.

"That is what I want; to feel that we are trying to do something," she agreed. "But I had to turn to you for some suggestion that was really helpful, hadn't I?"

News of Franklin and his aeroplane had ended on Tuesday. They learned, and the arrangements for instant dispatch of searching aeroplanes occupied several anxious hours. In the end John Blake secured the departure of two from Ireland, and two more from the north of Scotland. Already, he learned, the Admiralty had become active; and by 11 o'clock on Derby night he was able to assure Joan that very thorough search was already being made for the missing men and aeroplanes.

"And now you must try to get some sleep," he said. "If no news comes to hand during the night we must consider what more can be done to-morrow. There are a hundred chances left, you know; and we cannot afford to overlook any of them. That is why you ought to get some rest."

"Yes, I'll try," Joan agreed. "Now that everything possible has been done, I shall not feel so guilty in seeking rest. And I'm terribly tired, John; I never was more tired."

But daylight found Blake still out of his bed, and still discussing with a group of aviation experts the best method of organizing a search which would be thorough enough even to satisfy the exacting requirements of Joan Kenneth. Daylight also brought the morning papers; and there was still no news of Allen Franklin.

IN THE ATLANTIC

Franklin, during the few hours allowed for preparation for his adventure, had been given the satisfaction of learning that Buddy Grant had the most perfect equipment for crossing the Atlantic. Money had been lavished upon preparations; and the maps, wireless apparatus, and other accessories of the navigator's berth were absolutely complete.

Blake's description of Franklin as a jack-of-all-trades, and his happy one. Allen Franklin had the superficial quickness of grasp which entitled its possessor to a useful smattering of very many subjects. His drawback was the failure to specialize in any one of the many interests which had caught his vagrant attention. He was too easily satisfied; and much too easily bored.

Such as he was, however, Franklin was far more competent for the venture he was undertaking than his companions, who had little interest in maps and compasses, and a meagre store of confidence in the notion that the man who kept on flying long enough was bound to get somewhere in the end. Very soon after their propitious start, Franklin began to feel bothered by Buddy's sublime disregard for the details of navigation. Buddy was in high spirits, and delighted at the favorable conditions granted them; he was also immensely gratified at encountering a big liner within three hours of their start.

Franklin turned to the vessel, and the pleasure of flying over the vessel, while Franklin communicated his wireless message; and after that incident, the pilot either took matters into his own hands.

A smudge of smoke on the horizon drew him as infallibly as a magnet; and he flew over ocean-going ships accounted for the wealth of news received concerning the initial stages of the flight. In vain Franklin telephoned his protests. Buddy waved a hand light-heartedly, as though to say that a trifle like that was of no account whatever. The zig-zag course he was every sign of a fair night and the continuation of propitious weather for the following day. Allen Franklin had never been given to the fault of worrying unduly, as when, towards dusk, Grant diverged to the north, tempted by a trail of smoke which looked like a feather, the navigator contented himself with seeing to it that he resumed their correct course when signals had been made to a clumsy tramp, plunging westward at a steady ten knots an hour.

Immediately after the incident, Franklin, turning to look at his pilot, discovered him drooping in his seat, his head nodding like that of a very sleepy man.

"What's the matter with you?" he yelled through the telephone. "Sleepy?" Buddy Grant shook himself and straightened up; but it was enough for Franklin that he had shown signs of relapsing.

"Tell me when you were last in bed," he said, imperatively, recalling the mechanic at the aerodrome, and Buddy's puffy face, at their first meeting.

"Our nights ago," Buddy confessed. "Gee, I could tear off a few hours now, and feel all the better for it."

"We must change places," Franklin insisted. "I'm quite fresh, and fit for an all-night spell. It's the only thing to do, Buddy."

"You might be right, Frank, at that," Buddy conceded, and the change was made. Before darkness fell, entirely, Franklin could see that his companion had fallen sound asleep.

As the night wore on, he grew intolerably cold, and Franklin wished a hundred times that he had not the responsibility of his sleeping companion to distract him. Grant was so still that it frightened him; the sight of the huddled outline of Buddy Grant, being alone; fear of his consequences of the cold and the exposure, after the hectic preparation Buddy had made for the flight, could not be laid aside for a moment. But otherwise Franklin was well content. The machine gave him no trouble worth mentioning, and the night was fine in spite of the cold, the store of petrol would hold out for another fifteen hours, enough to carry them well into the Continent of Europe, if Franklin's calculations were anywhere near correct.

The few hours of darkness passed almost before Franklin was aware of it. There was an intensification of the blackness into which he thrust, as a prelude to the lightning of the sky before him; and then came the flush of returning daylight. Soon there was light enough to reveal the ocean beneath him; dark and mysterious at first, but presently reflecting something of the splendours of the dawn. Far away as he could see, it stretched empty and smiling; a sudden loneliness drove him from his seat to waken Buddy Grant.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Present

(Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily had been caught by the Fox and Bob Cat and carried off to the Fox den when the rabbit gentleman was asleep on the back porch of his bungalow, sunning himself to get over the mumps. And now, as I told you in the story last night, Mr. Longears was trying to think of some trick to play on the Fox so he could get away from the Bad Chap.

"When you say I have come to your den for supper, Mr. Fox," said Uncle Wiggily, "did you mean your supper or my supper?"

"I meant my supper!" barked the Fox, who in some ways is much like a dog. "Pretty soon my friend the Bob Cat will be here and we shall eat you for our supper," said the Fox, smiling to show his white, sharp teeth and red tongue, though Uncle Wiggily could see nothing funny at which to laugh.

"I must get away before the Bob Cat comes," thought Uncle Wiggily to himself as he sat there in the den of the Fox. "Two Bad Chaps are worse than one to get away from, and this Fox is bad enough."

The Fox kept between Uncle Wiggily and the door of the den so the rabbit gentleman had no chance to slip out. The fire was blazing in the stove, the water was shimmering for tea, the table, such as it was in the Fox den, was set. Everything was ready for supper as soon as the Bob Cat should come.

This Bad Chap, with the silly little tail, had been in the Fox den with Wiggily to the den of the Bad Chap with the big, dusting brush of a tail. Then the Bob Cat had gone to his own den.

"But he will be back as soon as he washes his paws and puts on a white tie," said the Fox.

"Why does the Bob Cat put on a white tie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, thinking that perhaps if he talked enough the Fox would finally get to sleep, giving the rabbit a chance to slip out.

"The Bob Cat always puts on a white necktie when he comes to a party," provided the Fox, "and this is to be a party."

"Oh," said Mr. Longears, and he was glad that he seemed to be all over the mumps, for he felt no more pain.

All the while the bunny gentleman was trying to think of a way to trick that Fox and escape from the den. All of a sudden a noise was heard and Mr. Longears was hoping it might be the Police Dog coming to rescue him. But it was only the Bob Cat.

"Is everything ready?" asked the Bad Chap with the silly tail.

"Yes," said the Fox. "Everything is ready."

"I am not!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "You say this is to be a party, Mr. Fox. Well, if it is, let me go and I will bring you a present. There ought to be presents at a party."

"Maybe," laughed the Fox. "But you are present enough for us. If you want to get another present you might not come back," which was true. So that trick didn't work.

Uncle Wiggily watched the Fox and Bob Cat get ready to eat, and all of a sudden, the Fox put his paw to his face.

"What's the matter?" asked the Bob Cat.

"I have such a queer pain in my jaws," said the Fox.

"So have I!" growled the Bob Cat, making a funny face. "Oh, how it hurts! I wonder—"

And then Uncle Wiggily knew! The two Bad Chaps had caught his mumps. Hurrah!

"Dear me," said the Fox. "This is very queer!" His face began slowly swelling. So did the Bob Cat's.

"Pickles! Lemons! Sour drops," suddenly cried the rabbit.

"Oh, don't!" howled the Fox, holding his jaws.

"Stop it!" howled the Bob Cat, doing the same.

But Uncle Wiggily only shouted the name:

"Pickles! Lemons! Sour drops!" And the thought of those pucky things made the Bad Chaps' mumps hurt so that they rolled around on the den

Synopsis by Deasy.

USE OF STAIN

Woodwork is stained to improve its natural color. It sinks into the fibers of the wood and colors or dyes them but leaves the grain showing as plainly as before. They may be either put on with a brush or rubbed in with a rag. Generally two coats are given. Wood may be darkened in color by rubbing oil into it or leaving it exposed to the fumes of ammonia.

By NEA Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1925-26.

Stain is often used to make cheap woods look more expensive. The colors used chiefly are walnut, mahogany or rosewood.

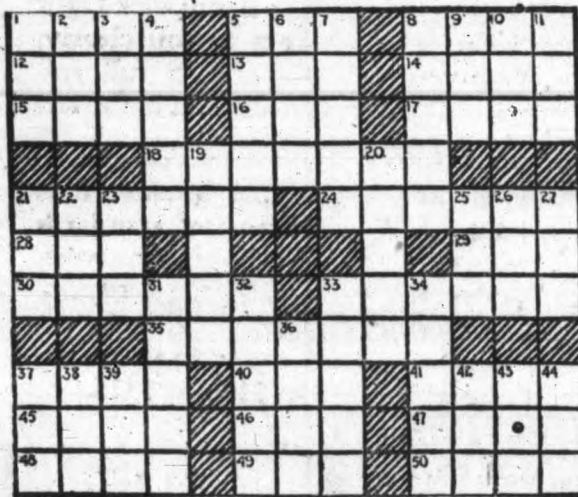

Very often fancy woods are improved by stains the same color as themselves. Green, blue or red also may be used as stains.

Wood surfaces should be smoothed carefully with sandpaper before stain is applied. Where several coats of a weak stain are used, sandpaper should be used after each coat, but be sure the stain is dry. Varnish stains are often used instead of simple stains. These are varnish and stain combined and save the trouble of varnishing and staining separately.

To-morrow's Horoscope

Good and evil planetary influences contend to-day, according to astrology, which reads in the stars warning to be careful while the configuration prevails.

The mind to-day may be receptive where destructive and depressing thoughts are concerned. Women especially should maintain a positive mental attitude. This is a threatening day for aviators and aviation. A serious accident in which many lives are lost is forecast for this month. Newspapers and magazines will benefit at this time, but they must beware of libel suits, which are indicated by the position of the stars.

This should be a favorable day for banks and banking. It is well to pay old debts and to face one's financial situation, since there will be little chance of too much optimism under this direction of the stars. All the signs seem to presage for newspapers a period of unparalleled development and prosperity. Inventions are to change many methods now employed in the dissemination of news, automobiles, telephones. Women are rather well directed to-day and should benefit by pursuing domestic and social affairs, thus avoiding public work. Persons whose birthdate it is probably will experience changes in the coming year, which should be eventful and marked by much happiness through friends. The subjects of Vires usually have charm of manner and witty, easy, popularity. Children born on this day probably will be restless and fond of travel. Many fine mathematicians are born under this sign, which claims innumerable subjects of distinction. Vires people are apt to be leaders and inclined to domineer.

YANKEES WIN OPENING GAME 4-1

SECOND INNING

Cardinals—The right field bleachers cheered Ruth to the echo. Bottomley up. Hoyt was using a floater on Bottomley. Bottomley tried to hit a crisp ball but missed. Bottomley was given a base on balls, the fourth pitch being low and on the inside. Hefey fanned, taking a third called strike. Harper up. The Cardinals were working the hit-and-run play but Harper fouled the ball. Harper fled out to Paschal. Wilson up. Hoyt tossed out Wilson at first. No runs, no hits, no errors. One left on base.

Yankees—Lazzeri up. Hefey gathered in Lazzeri's long fly near the left field barrier. Dugan up. Frisch tossed out Dugan. Bengough up. Frisch took Bengough's hopper and tossed him out. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

THIRD INNING

Cardinals—Maranville up. Ruth took Maranville's fly. Sherdel fouled out to Dugan. Douthitt up. Bengough took Douthitt's pop fly over near the Cardinals' bench for a thrilling catch. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

Yankees—Hoyt up. Maranville made a wonderful one-hand catch of Hoyt's pop foul near the left field boxes. Paschal up. Douthitt snared Paschal's high fly. Koenig up. Frisch tossed out Koenig. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

FOURTH INNING

Cardinals—The crowd cheered Maranville as he walked to the bench. High up. He fanned, swinging for the third strike. Frisch up. Frisch popped out to Bengough, who raced to the screen to make the catch. Bottomley up. Bottomley grounded out to Gehrig. Unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

Yankees—Ruth up. Ruth got a double into centerfield, looking one of Sherdel's slow balls. Gehrig up. Sherdel tossed out Gehrig at first. Ruth holding second. Meusel up. Ruth and Meusel scored on Meusel's homer into the right field bleachers. The crowd went into an uproar. Lazzeri up. Lazzeri popped to Wilson. Back of the plate. Dugan up. Maranville went back to take Dugan's hoist. Two runs, two hits, no errors. None left on base.

FIFTH INNING

Cardinals—The boys in the left field stands whooped it up for Meusel, while Ruth also came in for a big hand for his second double. Hefey up. Hefey singled into left for the Cardinals' first hit. Wilson up. Wilson forced Harper. Lazzeri to Koenig. Maranville up. Wilson went out stealing. Ben-gough to Koenig. No runs, one hit, no errors. None left on base.

Yankees—Bengough up. Frisch raced in fast to take Bengough's roller and tossed him out. Hoyt up. Hoyt got a hand for his fine pitching. Hoyt rolled weakly to Frisch and was thrown out at first. Paschal up. Paschal popped to Harper. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

SIXTH INNING

Cardinals—Maranville up. Maranville fled out to Ruth who took the ball near the foul line. Sherdel up. Hoyt was working very deliberately, taking his time between each pitch. Sherdel missed the third strike. Douthitt up. Douthitt was ticketed to first. High up. High fled out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors. One left on base.

Yankees—Koenig up. Sherdel tossed out Koenig at first. Ruth up. Sherdel was feeding Ruth nothing but teasers. Ruth fanned, taking a third called strike. Gehrig up. Frisch tossed out Gehrig at first. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

SEVENTH INNING

Cardinals—Frisch up. Koenig threw out Frisch at first. Bottomley up. Bottomley scored on a home run drive into the right field stands. It was a smashing hit. Hefey up. Hefey sent out a long fly to Meusel. Harper up. Harper fouled out to Dugan. One run, one hit, no errors. None left on base.

Yankees—The Cardinals' fans cheered Sunny Jim up. Meusel sent a slow dribbler to Sherdel and was thrown out. Durocher up. Durocher replaced Lazzeri at second base. Durocher struck out. Dugan up. High almost fell attempting to make a catch of a foul. Dugan missed a floater by two feet and the crowd laughed. Dugan's grounder was kicked around by Maranville and it was an error for the shortstop. Bengough up. Bengough fled to Harper. No runs, no hits, one error. One left on base.

EIGHTH INNING

Cardinals—Wilson up. Wilson lined out to Paschal. Orsatti batted for Maranville. Orsatti got a base on balls. Holm batted for Sherdel. Holm lined out to Paschal and Orsatti had to race back to first. Douthitt up. Douthitt fanned, taking a third strike called. No runs, no hits, no errors. None left on base.

Yankees—Therewent went in to play shortstop for the Cardinals. Hoyt up. Hoyt fled out to Douthitt. Paschal up. High threw out Paschal at first. Koenig up. Koenig singled past Frisch. Ruth up. Ruth singled into left. Koenig stopping at second base. Gehrig up. Koenig scored on Gehrig's single into right. Ruth stopping at Therewent. Meusel up. Meusel popped to Therewent. One run, three hits, no errors. Two left on base.

NINTH INNING

Cardinals—High up. High struck out, swinging for the third strike. Frisch up. Koenig robbed Frisch of a hit taking the ball deep on the grass and making a rifle shot throw. Bottomley up. Bottomley singled sharply into right. Hefey up. Hefey fled out to Ruth. No runs, one hit, no errors. One left on base.

CHAMBERLAIN TO SAIL NEXT WEEK ON JOURNEY HOME

Montreal, Oct. 4.—Right Hon. Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs in the British cabinet, is expected to sail for home from Montreal the beginning of November, said local steamship officials. Further information of his movements will be known on his arrival at the Pacific Coast of Canada completing a cruise undertaken for the good of his health.

Jugoslavs And Albanians On Rim of Trouble

Belgrade, Oct. 4.—It was feared today that the killing of eight Yugoslav soldiers by Albanian troops would aggravate the already strained relations between Yugoslavia and the newly-established Kingdom of Zogu I. Albanian troops were understood to have pursued a countryman accused of murder across the border into Yugoslavia territory after the Yugoslav frontier guards had ordered them not to cross the frontier. The Yugoslavs tried to disarm the Albanians. The pursuing forces then turned their attention from the lone fugitive to the Yugoslav forces, killing eight and wounding several.

B.C. Resident For 62 Years Passes

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—A resident of Vancouver for thirty years and of the Province for sixty-two years, James Robinson died at his residence, Oxford Street, on Tuesday in his seventy-seventh year.

Born in England, Mr. Robinson came to Canada at an early age, and to British Columbia in 1869. For some years he resided in Victoria.

Police Inquiry Bill Reasonable Lawyers Say

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Evidence of three Vancouver barristers was submitted to the B.C. court on Wednesday in support of the $6,000 bill rendered the city of Vancouver by A. H. MacNeill, K.C., who was counsel to Commissioner R. S. Lennie at the police inquiry.
E. L. Reid, K.C., calculated that Mr. MacNeill's work entitled him to $7,200. J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., thought that a fair remuneration for the forty-two days would be on the basis of $150 per diem.
From his experience in similar matters, particularly arbitrations, George R. Houser expressed the opinion that Mr. MacNeill should be paid in the neighborhood of $6,700.

Welland Canal Toll is Eighty

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 4.—Eighty men have lost their lives on the Welland Canal since the beginning of construction in 1913. So far this year twenty-one lives have been lost.

Saanich Case In Appeal Court

Vancouver, Oct. 4.—Whether the Corporation of the District of Saanich is liable to Charles Newcombe and his wife, Sarah, resident of the municipality for damage to their two lots, allegedly caused as a result of the construction of a culvert and diversion of water on their land, is a question to be determined by the B.C. Court of Appeal.

The action of Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe, who claimed damages and a mandamus which would compel the municipality to remedy the alleged default, was dismissed in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald.

Bank Clearings Here Rise Again

Victoria bank clearings for the week ending today total $2,849,383, according to the figures issued by the Clearing House this afternoon.
Clearings for the corresponding week of last year were $2,792,041.

"O'Ve come to tell ye, Mrs. O'Malley, that yer husband met wid an accident."
"And what is it now?" wailed Mrs. O'Malley.
"He was overcome by the heat, mum."
"What? Overcome by the heat in January?"
"Yes, mum. He fell into the furnace over to the foundry."
